Antioch, Lake Villa agree on Beach Grove Road as boundary

ALEC JUNG

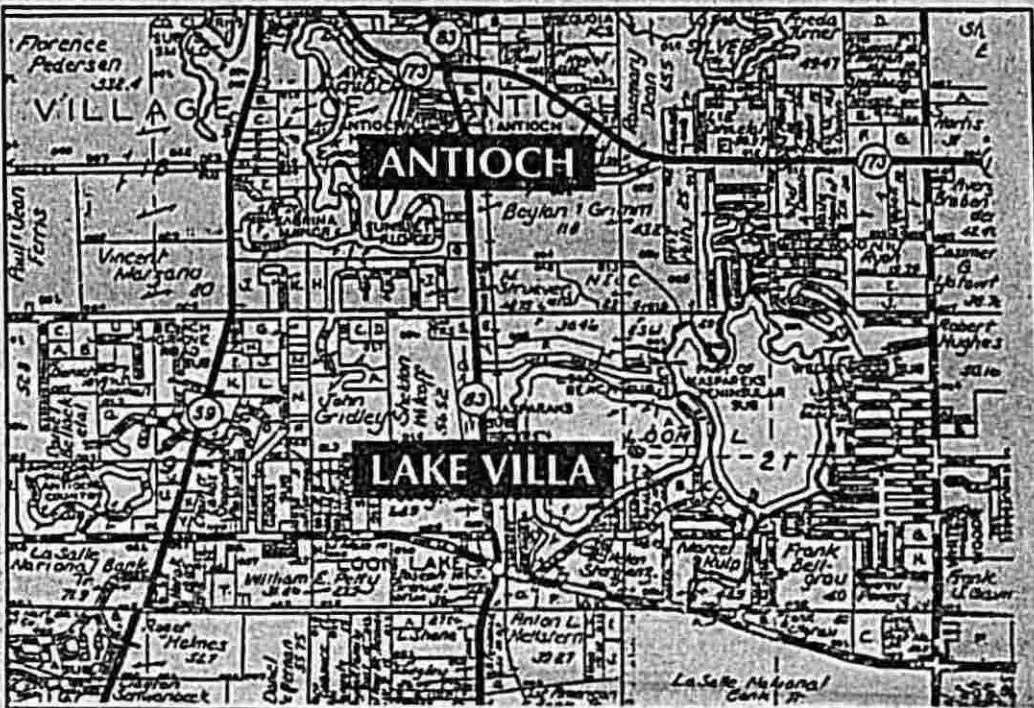

Staff Reporter

A municipal boundary agreement thrilled Antioch and Lake Villa officials but was met with skepticism from unincorporated Antioch Township residents.

Both Antioch and Lake Villa village boards approved a boundary agreement which carves north-south and east-west zone lines. The north and south boundary is Beach Grove Road. The decision appeared to catch residents off guard.

"When did I lose the right to come into the village?" questioned Tom Pientka, who owns 7 acres south of Beach Grove Road. "You have taken away the rights of 3,000 people."

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug explained the agreement will help both See LINES page A10

The Villages of Antioch and Lake Villa agreed to a boundary agreement with Beach Grove and Deep Lake roads as the dividing line. However, current properties in unincorporated areas will remain so unless annexation agreements are worked. Township boundaries are static and will always remain the same.

Antioch brothers to pedal for cancer research

Ritchie and Tom Hudd of Antioch may be legally blind, but it doesn't stop them from riding their bikes or helping out a good cause.

Next week they get to do both in the American Cancer Society Bike-A-Thon, Sunday, Sept. 29 in Antioch. They have been riding in the event since 1983.

"I like to ride my bike," Tom said. The brothers have raised at least $35,000 for cancer research.

"We go from house to house to house," Ritchie said of their fund-raising efforts.

"They do it all by themselves. They don't get any help from me. They go all around town," Connie Hudd, their mother.

Connie added they used to ride 30 miles each year in the event.

"It's nothing," Tom joked of the distance.

The Hudds raise about $2,000 a year.

"Everyone knows them and they give what they can," Connie said.

The American Cancer Society Bike-A-Thon will be held Sunday, Sept. 29, in Antioch.

The two were given their current Schwinn bikes because they raised so much money in sponsorships.

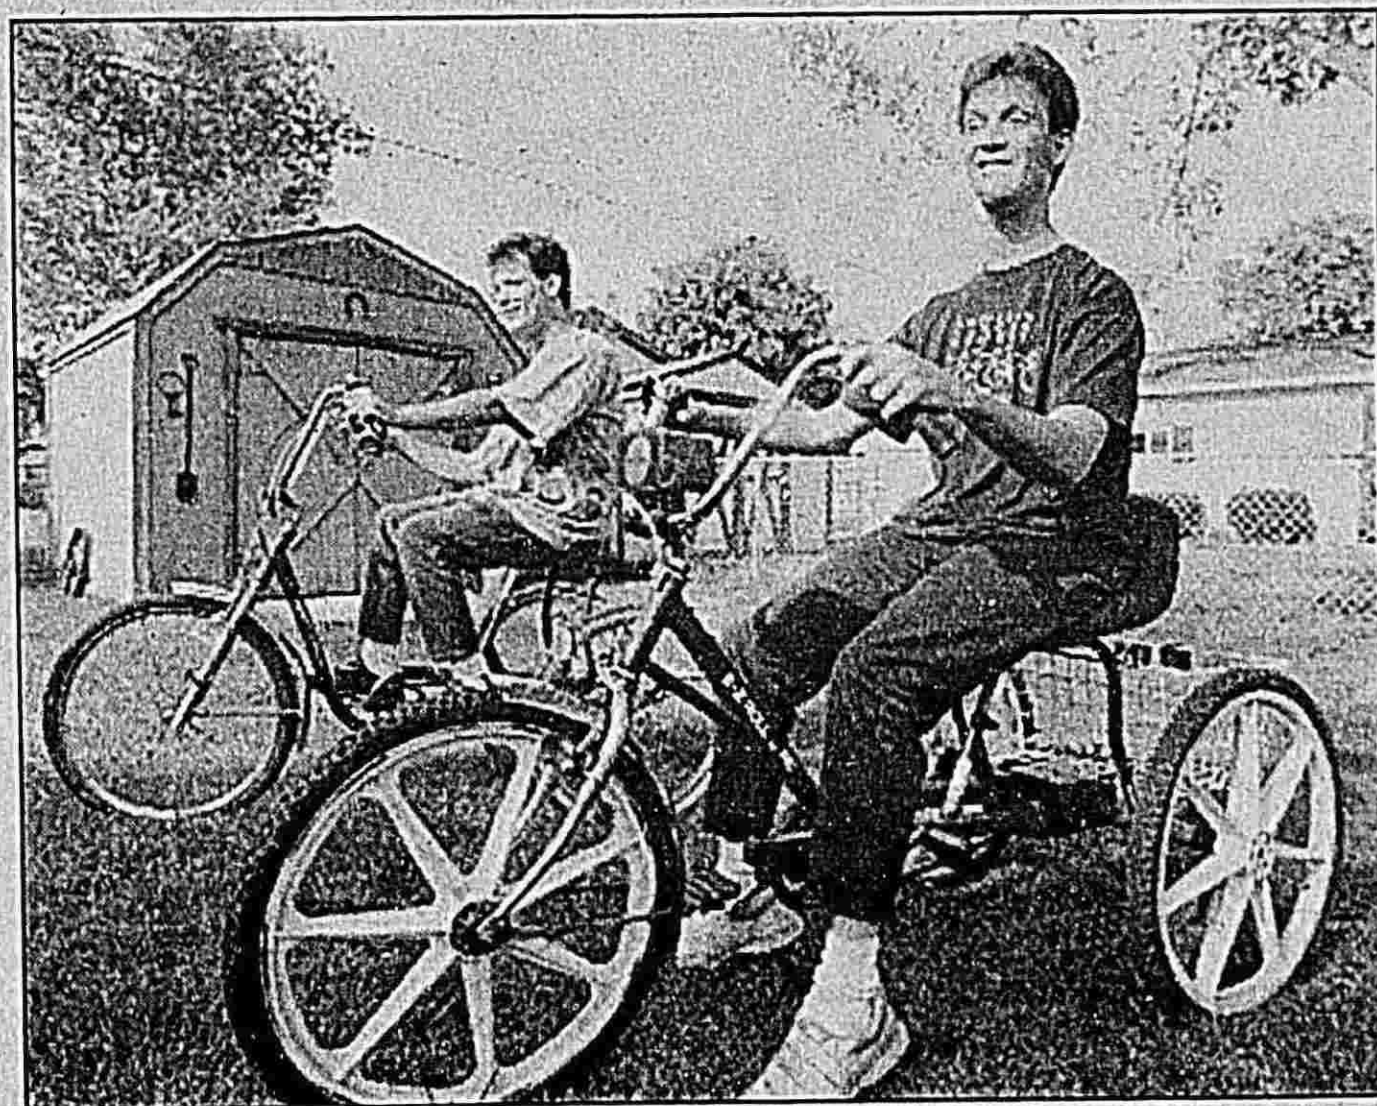

One year, they gave up their bicycles they earned at the event to a poor family.

Both brothers admit they think about their two uncles and an aunt they have lost to cancer when they ride in the event. The three all died in a four-year time span.

The two usually start around 9 a.m. with their three-wheel bikes.

The bike-a-thon is for the entire northwest area. The event begins at 9 a.m. at Centennial Park in Antioch. Contestants can choose between a 5- or a 10-mile jaunt.

It was started four years ago to honor See PEDAL page A10

Bikers show their heart for Pediatric AIDS

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

They looked tough riding their Harley's and clad in black leather but don't let these bikers fool you they have a heart.

Approximately 120 motorcyclists participated in the second annual Bikers Who Care Ride Against Pediatric AIDS held at Midlane Country Club to benefit the Chicago Fundraising Committee (CFC) for Pediatric AIDS.

Lenny Khayat, general manager of Midlane started the ride last year.

"I started 'Rolling Thunder.' The reason I started it is because I wanted a business biker club. Once we started we needed a cause and that's where Pediatric AIDS came in because I don't think there's a bigger need than this," Khayat said.

He explained the group does three other rides a year and are looking for causes. He plans to keep "going indefinitely," with the pediatric AIDS benefit.

All the money raised by the committee stays in the Chicago area. It is mainly used to benefit children and their families. A committee assesses the needs every year before awarding the funds which are also given in grant form to research projects.

Farmers experiencing 'worst year ever'

Revenue expected to be half

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

The only thing that could make this year worst for farmers in Lake County would be an early frost and with the weather experienced this last week, many farmers admit they are just crossing their fingers and praying—for rain and sunshine.

"What we really need is hot weather and a shower each day,"

Tony Titus, whose family has been farming in Lake County for more than 100 years, is hoping for a Nov. 1 frost in order to harvest his vegetable and soybean crop. —Photo by Sandy Bressner said Pete Tekampe, Fremont Twp. supervisor and a life-long farmer. Tekampe's family has been farming in Fremont Twp. since the 1850s. "This is the worst year I have ever seen," he said. And hot doesn't mean 70s. Tekampe said 80 and 90 degree weather is optimal for farmers to get passable yields from their fields.

It was a message echoed over and over again at each farm visited during a tour of Lake County's harvest, or lack of it, Tuesday. Farm Bureau Manager Richard Raftis, lead the tour in an effort to educate the public.

What is unique about this growing season is that bad weather conditions have seemingly been isolated to Lake County. Even McHenry County to the west and Kenosha and Racine County farmers over the border in Wisconsin have crops which are in much better shape than in Lake County.

"In the spring when it rained and rained, it seemed to be isolated to Lake County," Raftis said. "Then it stopped raining and in some parts of the county we haven't had a measurable rainfall since August."

The problems with this year's crops didn't start in April with the rain, however, they began over the winter when lack of snowcover damaged winter wheat crops and failed to provide a moisture base for soil. A late January deep-freeze which followed near-thawing temperatures claimed about 60 percent of the apple crop at Wauconda Orchards.

"Agriculture in Lake County is usually a $40 million business," said Raftis. While exact figures as to loss won't be known until the harvest is in, early estimates indicate revenue will be at least half that much, if not lower.

"A lot depends on the frost," said Joe Terando, a crop specialist with Conserv FS of Wauconda. "Soybeans need warm temperatures to mature and they are behind normal growing years."

Normal frost dates for Lake County vary from mid-September to mid-October. The first frost of 1995 was Sept. 23. The first frost of 1994 was Oct. 17. Soybean crops examined by Terando need at least two to three weeks of growth to make harvest able yields.

Vegetable farmer Tony Titus of Fremont Twp., is praying for a November 1st frost. A frost next week "would be absolutely disaster" for the farmer.

Most Lake County farmers will feel fortunate to be able to sell their crops for the cost of production, according to Terando.

With average yields projected to be at about one-third of normal growing seasons, local farmers will feel fortunate to accomplish that.

"This is the worst year ever. The year 1974 was not very kind to us either, it was similar with a wet spring and early frost, but this is by far the worst."

— Tom Doolittle, Antioch farmer

Crop specialist Joe Terando, left, checks the corn crop along with Antioch Twp. farmer Tom Doolittle. The corn crop needs another three to four weeks to reach maturity. A cold, wet spring followed by a dry summer has spelled disaster for many Lake County farmers.— Photo by Sandy Bressner

Doolittle has also been a life-long farmer. He joined his dad as a farming partner in 1969.

"This is the worst year ever," said Doolittle. "The year 1974 was not very kind to us either, it was similar with a wet spring and early frost, but this is by far the worst."

Doolittle normally plants 450 acres of corn. This year because of the wet, cold spring, he was only able to plant 150 acres in corn. Of that, 40 acres are no-good and the rest will likely yield dismal results.

Surveying the field, Terando said the corn needs 4 to 4 and a-half weeks of growing time to mature.

Doolittle, like most Lake County farmers, opted to plant soybeans when the skies finally cleared in the fourth week of June. However, the high temperatures of the Fourth of July weekend, got the soybeans off to a rough start and upon inspection,

Village, school aim to link-up

VERNON HILLS—Both the Village of Vernon Hills and Libertyville Community High School are joining forces in cyberspace. With LHS being a major hub site to provide Internet service to Lake County schools and Vernon Hills seeking ways to broadcast its opportunities across the globe, the two have found a common ground. The Vernon Hills board voted to allow LCHS students to provide service, construct a Web page and provide E-mail service. LCHS students will be doing the work like a mini-internship. Students get first-hand knowledge of developing the Internet service in useful ways, while the village gets the service it seeks. The action is pending approval by the LCHS board of education.—STAFF REPORT

Benefit to help burned kids

NEWPORT TOWNSHIP—The Newport Township Firefighters Association has put together an afternoon of fun to benefit Camp Duncan in Ingleside, for children who are burn victims. Saturday, Sept. 21 beginning at 2 p.m. everyone is invited to the fundraiser benefiting the Illinois Fire Safety Alliance Burn Camp for Children.

Last year the association raised $4,000 enabling them to send six children, according to Cindy Nichols organizer of this year's event.

"It's a great benefit. The outpouring from our small community was unbelievable," Nichols said.

At the benefit several raffles will be held for prizes donated by the community. Some mentioned by Nichols include a fishing charter worth $300, a Michael Jordan basketball and a chainsaw valued around $300.

The benefit will be held at R&R Crossing Saloon in Russell, Ill. There is no entry fee all the money is raised through donations or the raffle.

Park pass policy bites the dust

GURNEE—The almost two decade old practice of village officials receiving free passes to Six Flags Great America theme park is over.

Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton announced the end of the practice and the return of any passes trustees, other elected officials and appointed officials may have to the theme park.

"Unfortunately, it is a credibility issue," resident Russell Schneider said. "It has to be the biggest issue he (Welton) has faced. I have not talked to anyone who said the village should keep the practice," Russell Schneider, resident and president of the Warren Township High School Board of education, said.

"Many years, I used my full allotment of tickets - giving them to anyone who asked," Welton said.

Jerry Becker, resident, said he obtained signatures of 32 people opposed to the free passes to officials. "How can you be objective with a Six Flags request when you receive 1,500 (the estimated total to all officials) passes," he said.—by STEVE PETERSON

Villages set boundary pact

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP—Antioch and Lake Villa village boards agreed to a municipal boundary agreement. The two village mayors have been negotiating the details. The pact demarks all land south of Beach Grove Road to be in Lake Villa's boundary area and land north to be in Antioch's boundary area.

Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said the agreement will prevent developers from pitting the villages against each other. She added the village is limited to 1.6 million gallons of sewer capacity and it was felt Beach Grove was as far south as the village would ever go.

Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo said the agreement should help slow development because the villages can be more selective of how they allow to build. Tom Pientka, Antioch Township resident, was upset the villages didn't discuss the details until the vote was taken.—by ALEC JUNG

LIBERTYVILLE—Finishing touches of the Libertyville/Prairie Crossing commuter train station in Libertyville were being added this week with the hopes of opening the parking lot by early next week. The village fined the contractor $500 a day for missing a Sept. 7 deadline to complete the parking lot in order to begin service.

"We have our fingers crossed," said Mayor Jo Ann Eckmann, referring to a Sept. 19 opening date. The new station hopes to alleviate some of the traffic at the downtown Libertyville train station and draw commuters from Prairie Crossing in Grayslake.

When the station opens, weekday service will be at 5:44, 6:19 and 6:54 a.m. Trains will depart downtown Chicago at 4:23, 5 and 5:38 p.m.—STAFF REPORT

Oktoberfest kicks off fall

GRAYSLAKE—The annual Oktoberfest at Saint Andrew Episcopal Church will be held Saturday, Sept. 21 from 5-10 p.m. at the church on Park Avenue and Lake Street.

Bill Lindsay of the Oktoberfest committee said they hold their Oktoberfest in September because that is when it traditionally begins in Germany.

"It's a good time of year. We have a outdoor beer tent (with imported German beer), live music. . . it's a good opportunity to meet people from the community," said Lindsay.

Tickets are $7 for adults, $5.50 for seniors 60 and over and children under five are free. For information and tickets call 223-1704 or 548-1462.—by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Alliance to change image

ROUND LAKE—Once a month, mayors of the four Round Lake area towns will be meeting to share ideas on new developments, and to get a positive word to the public striving to get out the good word.

A newly formed alliance consisting of village heads, met for the first time this week.

"The recent growth in the Round Lake area has brought about many positive changes," said Round Lake Beach mayor, Ralph Davis.

"These monthly meetings will allow the village officials to communicate plans and accomplishments in order to work together for the benefit of residents."

Terry Lumpkins, Round Lake Heights mayor, and long-time resident said, "We just want to give the Round Lake community a different look. It's always been looked down at."

"We have one of the best park districts in Lake County. We've got to break that cycle and we have to improve our image," explained Lumpkins who added this is only the first step in a long process. "I think it should have happened a long time ago," he said.—by TINA L. SWIECH

Community supports family

LAKE ZURICH—Village residents have come out in droves to support a family with a boy in need of a kidney transplant, and his mother supplying him with one.

The Lake Zurich Fire Department is leading a "Fill The Boot" day Saturday, Sept. 21. Village employees have volunteered to be scattered around the village in more than 20 places from 8 a.m. to noon.

A combination bake sale and car wash held Sept. 15 raised more than $3,400, more than anyone expected.

"We had people coming through giving us $100 to do a car wash," said Dave Greasby, a neighbor of the Johnson family who has organized the fund-raisers.

Steven Johnson, 9, is scheduled to undergo the necessary surgery next week. His mother, Denise, will need up to six weeks to recover.

The operation and after care will cost the family in the neighborhood of $120,000, which their insurance will not completely cover.—by SPENCER SCHEIN

Society honors residents

WAUCONDA—The Wauconda Township Historical Society is hosting its second annual Open House where it will honor residents who have lived in the Township for most of their lives.

Residents who can say they have lived in Wauconda Township for 65 years or longer are the guests of honor on Sunday, Sept. 22, when the society will host its open house from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Andrew C. Cook Memorial House and Museum.

Last year 23 residents who lived in the Township for 70 or more years attended the celebration. This year the society is expecting 30 residents to attend with the lowered requirements.

The Open House is open to anyone interested in viewing the house and meeting the Township's elders. The celebration will mark the last Sunday that the house is open to the public until next spring.—by SPENCER SCHEIN

The bikers then rode through the country sporting their new red bandannas from Pediatric AIDS on a scenic trip to Lake Geneva, Wis. They even had their own police escort allowing them to stick with the pack.

They returned to Midlane at 1 p.m. where they relaxed with a cook-out, wacky games such as the longest marshmallow drive, music and raffles with donated prizes.

Last year $13,000 was raised during the ride, according to Midlane Office Manager Barbara Mismash, who was volunteering with her husband at the registration table.

Debby Klein, a founder of CFC, said they began their work in 1991 as a result of college friend Elizabeth Glaser's fight with AIDS which she lost to a year ago. She lost a daughter to the disease as well. Glaser was the wife of actor and director Paul Michael Glaser.

"We wanted to do something to help and realized there was a need for this in Chicago," said Lynne Weber also a friend of Glaser's.

"We've raised one million in five years and operate on less than 5 percent overhead," Klein explained. The Lake County Health Department was one of 13 agencies to whom they recently awarded grants. "That grant is used for education."

The largest fundraiser of the year for CFC, which they stage themselves, is coming up Oct. 5 at the Hotel Nikko in Chicago. For more information on the event or CFC call (847) 933-3775.

Phrase making part of politics

In his first campaign for the presidency, Ronald Reagan effectively boiled the issues of choosing a chief executive down to a simple question: "Are you better off than you were four years ago?"

Four years ago, Bill Clinton captured the fancy of many voters with an earthy assertion: "It's the economy, stupid!" Of little consequence was the fact that, as effective as the phrase was, the putdown to the intelligence of the electorate didn't seem to matter.

We haven't been able to encapsulate a pivotal issue of the 1996 presidential race in a few hard-hitting words, but the outcome could hinge on an easily understood question: "Will your children and grandchildren be better off under a Democratic president or a Republican president?"

If voters are asking themselves that question this fall, they'll be considering things like the increase in teenage drug use, continuing governmental interference in daily life and business, ever increasing taxation, expanding welfarism, moral decay both in family life and high places, and domination of our educational system by union teachers instead of parents and citizens.

President Clinton undoubtedly was attempting to create a new catch phrase with repeated references in his convention acceptance speech to "building a bridge to the next century." Do we want to go where Clinton and his crowd are taking us?

Big school check only a symbol

At first glance, the $1 million check turned over by Zale Homes to Hawthorn School to help cover costs from 1,000 students expected from Gregg's Landing seems generous. In actuality, it probably should have been more. The big check covers only the "hit" to be taken by the school district of 3,160 pupils for the avalanche of new pupils being brought on by the development until impact fees and new taxes are received.

Zale hasn't seen fit to provide any financial lift for Libertyville High School. Gregg's Landing will produce 400 high school students, according to Supt. Donald Gossett. That will exceed in total Libertyville High's growth the past five years. Vernon Hills officials estimate high school growth at only 250 students.

Even though the high school won't benefit from developer generosity, LHS officials hope the formation of a citizens "second site committee" will offer a direction for dealing with space inequities. Broad brush solutions to be studied include a mega-campus, freshman/sophomore campus, and a second four-year school.

Critics of growth and development already are calling the Zale gift a "cynical symbol" as they prepare with fellow taxpayers to provide the ultimate solution for the assimilation of Gregg's Landing children—higher taxes.

—COMMENTARY— Teachers need to reassume stance as role models

LT. GOV. BOB KUSTRA

As Illinois youth prepared for a return to the classroom this September, a series of reports sent a confusing set of signals about the quality of our children's education and their ability to cope with the pressures of adolescent life in the '90s.

The good news. SAT math scores for Illinois students were the highest since 1972. One professor observed that compared to their predecessors, today's students have taken more honors courses, pre-calculus, chemistry, and physics courses and are more computer literate. Such good news on test scores has given many in the education establishment a chance to take credit for the improvements, not the least of whom should be the teachers in our students' math classes.

Yet before the champagne bottles are uncorked, a set of more sobering statistics suggests a word of caution.

The bad news. Statistics on drug use among our nation's youth show that we are making very little progress, and things are getting worse rather than better. On this one, those in the political establishment are standing in line pointing fingers at each other, an interesting approach at a time when everyone in public office preaches to our young people the importance of taking responsibility for our actions. Let's hope they are practicing what we preach and not what we do.

The encouraging news. A third report out in August may help us to build on the academic successes previously noted and help us work toward real solutions to the problems of drugs in our youth culture. A high school study which asked why discipline is better in some schools than others found that high schools where teachers were used to monitor student behavior in the cafeteria and the halls had better discipline than schools where other means were used. This comes as no shock to anyone with high school experience like my own. Teachers were not only in front of the classroom, but were also in the cafeteria, in the halls, at the dances, and at the athletic events. Everywhere. Always.

Teachers still involve themselves in student life in our high schools today, but I know from visiting schools and talking with school superintendents that the list of "bargainable issues" is longer today and includes duties which were once taken for See COMMENTARY page B5

A group of municipal leaders in Highland Park, Deerfield, Vernon Hills and Buffalo Grove has indicated support for Joel Gingiss, candidate for state representative, in his bid for the 60th House District seat, in the November general election.

Gingiss' campaign has received the support of Highland Park Mayor Ray Geraci, Deerfield Mayor Bernard Forrest, Vernon Hills Mayor Roger Bryne, Buffalo Grove Mayor Sid Mathias, who previously supported Gingiss' opponent, Democrat Lauren Beth Gash, has stated he will make no endorsement in the race.

Five of the six Buffalo Grove trustees, however, are supporting Gingiss including Bill Reid, Charles Hendricks, DeAnn Glover, Brian Rubin and John Merlenthal.

Heavy traffic—Thursday and Friday turned out to be busy for two high profile county politicians as beneficiaries of big name Republicans advancing their campaigns.

Marilyn Quayle and Al Salvi were billed as honored guests at a private home tea staged Thursday by members of the Lake Forest/Lake Bluff Women's Republican Club. When she wasn't talking politics, Marilyn brought Lake Countians up to date on the Quayle family's relocation from Indiana to Phoenix. Arizona is good GOP territory besides being the location of important business interests for the former Veep (two daily newspapers).

House Majority Leader Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) was surrounded by party glitterate from Springfield at his annual rock and roll party at Midlane Country Club, Friday evening. Churchill is a key player in state politics so he was accorded appropriate recognition.

Hitting hard—Bob Neal continues to bang away at acquiring the recorder of deeds position. He's designated two more dates for fund raising activity, bringing to a half dozen the members of campaign benefits for the 1996 campaign. Wednesday, Sept. 25, was designated as a "hold," but Tuesday, Oct. 8, is a go for a $15 per person reception at Mers Restaurant in Wauconda.

Happy birthday—Mostly family members feted Les Harmon, former Lake County Board member and retired superintendent of North Chicago High School, on his 80th birthday. Party goers watched Les' alma mater, Northwestern, get on track in a televised football game, but the sound was turned off so as not to intrude on conversation. Les enjoys life, especially when NU wins.

Brewery battle—Flatlander's got oodles of great PR miles out of being the designated beer of choice at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Now, it's Mickey Finn's chance to respond at the "Red, White, and Brew Fest," Tuesday, Oct. 15 honoring State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville). Moore hasn't stopped smiling since the Democrats decided not to run anyone against the Republican dynamo.

Identity crisis—No sizable gathering in Lake County is complete these days without an appearance by a smiling Bob Neal. The GOP candidate for recorder of deeds seems to be relentless in his quest for exposure and recognition, showing up at everything from mixers to meetings. As one of hundreds of guests at a pig roast hosted by Barb and Ed Sullivan at their Mundelein home, Neal was the only one who felt it necessary to wear a name tag.

Out of Order—Party Lines puts a big thumbs down to Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields for single-handedly adjourning the township meeting and not permitting Claudette Skvarce to report on her salary survey comparing township officials with their county counterparts. Fields adjourned the meeting after Skvarce motioned to have her report heard. Fields told her and the audience he didn't have to recognize her motion. It appears the veteran supervisor ought to brush up on his Robert's Rules of Order.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Flirting with U.S. demise

Editor:

In America 220 years ago, politicians pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor in signing the Declaration of Independence. The "Spirit of 1776" caused the birth of our nation.

Thankfully, such a bold act does not have to occur today. For if it did, we would be driving our cars on the left side of the road and singing "God Save the Queen" before each cricket or soccer match. Which modern politicians are willing to sacrifice their life styles, their pension plans and their sacred re-election bids for the good of the country?

But, common sense tells us that politicians only reflect the spirit of the people. By 2020, hindsight will show that the "Spirit of 1996" caused the demise of America.

granted as normal teacher chores. Now, teacher unions bargain for how few minutes their members have to remain at the school building after the last class of the day. It would be a shame if we let the days of a teacher walking through a cafeteria at lunch to keep order and decorum and chatting with students on an informal basis be assigned to the history books.

It is not an exaggeration for me to say that my professional success is due in large part to teachers who stayed after school and worked with me and my fellow students who needed the guidance, the role modeling, the friendship, the encouragement, and the values training. Students in today's classrooms need it even more.

Either our young people will learn from real-life role models in our schools and communities or the entertainment and sports media will take over. Take your pick of role models—a teacher or Dennis Rodman. We are losing the war on drugs today because too many of our culture's heroes in entertainment and sports have failed us. If teachers can be so successful in the classroom improving math scores, then they can achieve similar successes shaping the character and values of our youth during the rest of the school day and afterwards.

Teachers must be at the front and center in our kids' lives. They must be there throughout the school day with rewards and punishments to shape and influence the decisions our kids make. Parents, of course, are the central role models in our children's lives; yet the responsibilities of parenting are more challenging than they have ever been. We can help our parents by giving our kids strong, consistent messages during those 30 hours a weeks that they are with a teacher in our schools.

As a society, we have undervalued teachers. During those years that teachers have fought for salary adjustments, school boards sometimes substituted fewer teacher duties when the dollars weren't available. Where that may have happened, it was a bad choice and it's not too late to reverse the course.

I'm confident that if school boards and teachers restructured the teacher's role in our children's school day that they once had, we will see the day when teachers have more influence over students' lives. Adding a strong and respected voice to drug-free messages we send our youth will surely result in declining drug use in the future.

Editor's note: Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra spent more than 25 years teaching throughout Illinois before entering political life. He resides in suburban Chicago.

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Shame on you Concerning the report of a rash of thefts at the Lakeview Plaza, what was the reason to quote that only one business had a burglar alarm? Shame on the newspaper and the person who said it. This is a perfect example of irresponsible journalism. Was it just a slow day at the office?

Control speeders

The Round Lake Beach police department has to do something to control the traffic speed on Rollins Road. Almost every vehicle is driving 10 miles over the posted speed limit. I hardly see any police on that road, and when there are, they're not pulling anybody over. What are they waiting for? Let's get some radar guns set up.

Call EPA

You don't have to smell garbage burning. It's against the law. Look in the phone book in your county. Call the Environmental Protection Agency or Health Department, give the address of the burner. They won't tell you who it was that called, and you and your neighbors can open your windows.

Need a club

I'm a newly divorced 34-year-old white female and I'm looking for some single groups in the age group of 30 to 40 years old. All I've found are over 50 groups and it's just a little too old for me. Please call in with your suggestions.

Go with flow

I'd like to thank Jim Pappas for stopping Sue McNally and Dar Follman for opening the resumes for the new treasurer. Someone needs to tell those two that they don't run the town and that they should go with the right flow.

GOP's the one

My comment is for two comments I read in Lipservice. One is "Lies, lies, lies." This person believes that everything Republicans believe is garbage. This person needs to get a life. You're supposed to get rewarded for success in this country, not penalized by being taxed more. If you work hard and get ahead, you get a pay increase. You shouldn't have money deducted because you strive for excellence. Second, to "Oddballs," this person believes that the speeches by some Republicans weren't written by them. Do you think Bill Clinton's and Al Gore's speeches were written by them? Of course not! You should look to the Republican party at election time to lower taxes and provide more relief for us.

Do something

I'd like to know what Metra, National School Bus, and Hawthorn Schools are going to do about the bus driver who almost got hit by a train for not following correct procedures. Do we have to be another Cary before something is done?

Off the road

How can National Bus say the bus driver who was involved in the bus accident at Hawthorn School not have done anything wrong? If she would have stopped on the white line, she would have seen the train on the tracks. She backed off the tracks, took out the signal arm, and left without calling the police. I can't believe they're still going to let this person drive buses.

Donate marrow

I was calling to commend the village of Antioch for doing the community-wide marrow donor drive taking place on Sept. 28 at St. Peter's Church. They're doing a great job and it's nice to see the community get together for a life-saving cause.

What a shame

I think it's a little too late for Grayslake to be putting up the "No skateboarding" signs at Centennial Park. The whole park is a horrible mess from the irresponsible foul-mouthed teenagers that ruined it. Don't parents teach their kids responsibility these days? The band stand stairs are chipped away from rollerbladers, flowers that were just planted were dead and gone within a couple of days, and cigarette butts are everywhere. This is really a disgrace, and a shame to all Grayslake residents.

Check toilet

To the person whose water bill is too high, check your toilet. A slow leak could cost you hundreds of dollars without you even knowing it. If you don't know anything about bathroom plumbing, have someone who does check it out for you—it could save you a bunch of money!

Stop complaining

Tom Chamberlain, will you stop complaining about the Gurnee officials? So what if Great America gave them free passes, it was Great America's choice. Who in their right mind would document every person they gave one to? You're asking Mayor Welton to tell you where 8,400 passes went over a 20-year period? Get real!

Wake up

Wake up, Fox Lake mayoral candidates Jim Pappas and Jim Lohenry Walton. You can't do any good unless you run with a whole party line. If you don't change the board in Fox Lake, you can't change anything.

Vacation's over

In the Sept. 6 edition of Lakeland, there were some important dates listed for District 41—early dismissal on the 17th, no school on the 18th for teacher's institute, and early dismissal on the 24th for teacher's in-service. I don't know when these kids expect to go to school. Can't these teachers do this after work or on the weekend? We pay for kids to be in school, not out of school.

Thanks for nada

Congratulations to the Fox Lake village board. I'd like to commend trustees Follman, Meyer, and Thillen for continuing the lack of activity from the village board. The article in the Sept. 6 paper clearly states why nothing gets done in this community. They voted down a tree ordinance which, according to Alberta Meyer, has been in the books for two years. Why can't they get one simple ordinance passed in a couple of years? If they had done that, maybe the project off of Rollins Rd. wouldn't have sacrificed those large, wonderful oak trees. Congratulations, again, for absolutely nothing. Forget your courtesy, Alberta, this is just a stalling tactic.

Hope it's better

I hope the new shopping center Mr. Trapanni is proposing in front of the West Ridge development in Island Lake is better than the one on Route 12 in Lake Zurich. I hope that doesn't happen here.

Not a priority

I'm calling in response to "No Fair." First, the "Get Smart" program was offered to all K-8 students in District 118. Information was sent home after January. Secondly, air conditioning is not the number one priority in a rapidly growing district. Our children are only in school for approximately two weeks in the early fall and late spring in warm temperatures.

Ridiculous

I'm calling about "Water too high" in the Sept. 13 Lipservice. I think she's correct, water bills are way too high. I'm afraid to flush my toilet. I hope the new water tank will better the situation. It's ridiculous.

Unbelievable

Looks like the American tradition of common sense and respect for one's neighbors doesn't matter anymore. I have 134 names against the snowmobile races on Wooster Lake waters the middle of September. No governmental unit seems to be willing to stop this disaster to the clean lake. History just repeats itself. Gas and air on the water, air & noise pollution, traffic, etc. It all has to be proven that this will be detrimental to the lake and community. Unbelievable!

16th Annual Chef Cuisine Benefit is coming to Midlane

Chefs from around Lake County are packing up their supplies in anticipation of sharing tastes of their favorite recipes at the 16th Annual Chef Cuisine Benefit from 3 to 7 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 29 at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth.

Chef Cuisine, which is sponsored by the Victory Hospital Foundation, offers all the opportunity to taste samplings of the best area chefs have to offer. Over 40 of Lake County's favorite restaurants will be represented in the elegant "taste of" atmosphere of Chef Cuisine. Guests will dine on everything from appetizers to main dishes to desserts.

While Chef Cuisine promises to tempt the palates of hundreds of attendees with the creations of dozens of Lake County's favorite restaurants, food isn't the only attraction. There will be a lot to see and do at this annual benefit.

Learn from one of the country's best. A surprise guest chef will be on hand to share his culinary secrets at scheduled demonstrations. In addition, Bev's World, Waukegan, will illustrate techniques for designing exquisite cakes. Throughout the afternoon, Nadeau's of Chicago will create beautiful sculptures from giant blocks of ice on the patio off the Chandler Room. Nadeau's is famous in the Midwest for its sculptures which frequently decorate wedding receptions, corporate meetings and restaurants.

Everyone, young or old, experienced golfer or novice, is invited to try his/her hand at the Chef Cuisine Putting contest. It will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. on the practice putting green, off the southeast corner of Midlane's lower level. All participants in the contest will be entered in a drawing of prizes, including great golf outing packages. Golf clubs will be provided, balls are $1 each or $5 for six. Proceeds benefit the HealthReach Clinic.

The Club Chefs of America will be tasting each restaurant's offering. But they won't be eating for the joy of eating alone. They'll be keeping score and awarding medals to the best Lake County has to offer in the categories of "Appetizers/Soups/Salads," "Entrees" and "Desserts." Awards will be presented at 6:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the 16th Annual Chef Cuisine Benefit will support Lake County's HealthReach Clinic. Over 3,000 Lake County residents received general healthcare through the clinic in 1995. The clinic is a non-profit, volunteer organization that relies on community donations to supplement funding received through federal block grants. It was established in 1992 to provide healthcare for area residents who are living below federal poverty guidelines and do not have easy access to general healthcare. See CHEF page B8

Artist bites into Big Apple with 'Seven Institutional Sins'

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

Untitled #3 — A hollow mannequin is chained to two columns embossed with hundreds of company trademarks. The base of the image is covered with blatantly sexual magazine ads selling products from milk to cigarettes to condoms. The art piece evokes a strong sense of how big companies attempt to manipulate the buying public through sexual images.

The piece is just one of seven Mundelein artist Suesi Metcalf will bring to New York City's Gang Gallery as part of a one-woman show, Seven Institutional Sins.

"I feel a lot of people have trouble with their self-esteem. Their self-image is being defined as 'We're the Pepsi generation,' or 'Be all that you can be,'" said Metcalf. "People don't really think about the effect advertising has on them."

Although most of the seven pieces are social comments on corporate advertising, one of them addresses the institution of education.

Untitled #1 is made of 36 photographs of children in a window format. One side is bricked to represent the exterior of a school and the other is painted wood to represent the interior of the school. The children are showing expressions that can be described as frustration, boredom, unhappiness.

"There are kids in schools who are not getting their needs met. And it's a tough job to meet all the kids needs," said Metcalf who taught at Kildeer-Countryside District 96 schools for more than 20 years.

Untitled #1 took three years to create. Metcalf had the cooperation of District 96 schools and Mundelein High School. When photographing the students she told them, "Show me how you feel when school doesn't work for you."

"The first kid went right into a pose and the next went right into a different pose," said Metcalf who has deep appreciation for the creativity of children.

There was one expressive photo, a "beautiful-ugly" pose, which Metcalf was unable to obtain parental permission to use.

"The parents refused to let me use it because they said 'School is a happy place,'" said Metcalf.

Metcalf's interest in the arts started at a young age. Growing up on a farm in Marengo, she learned to sew from her mother, a professional seamstress. She also whiled away the hours with knitting, crocheting, needle-point and sketching.

Metcalf headed off to Northern Illinois University with the intent to study math and physics. She was interested in pursuing a career in holography which was still a new field in the late '60s. That path didn't work out and Metcalf switched to art education.

"I took every art class I could take and I just loved it," she recalled.

In 1973 she applied for an art teaching position at District 96. She remembers in the interview saying she was interested in staying for three years. She ended up staying for more than 20, resigning just last year.

Metcalf's approach to teaching art was treating the children like artists; she would have them work on an art project in their choice of medium, name it and exhibit it at a student show.

She taught the children to understand abstract art, something most adults have trouble with. She was often amazed at the depth of the students' understanding.

"Most adults don't understand pure abstract art. They always want it to be something. It isn't anything, just color, form, shape. You make it what you want it to be," said Metcalf.

Metcalf said she misses teaching. "Kids would always come up with something different," she said.

Over the years, Metcalf started the Long Grove Art Festival and worked for Cuneo Museum helping to start the Children's Art festival. She also brought into the world and raised three children, aged 5 to 19, and married for the second time to Dan Hart, a financial analyst.

Metcalf was constantly creating and learning throughout her teaching years. She took courses at the Museum of Holography, the School of the Art Institute and Terra Museum. She earned a master of science in education.

She gained recognition for her quilt art. One of her pieces was exhibited at the Museum of American Folk Art in New York and is featured in a book "World of Crafts, Quilting."

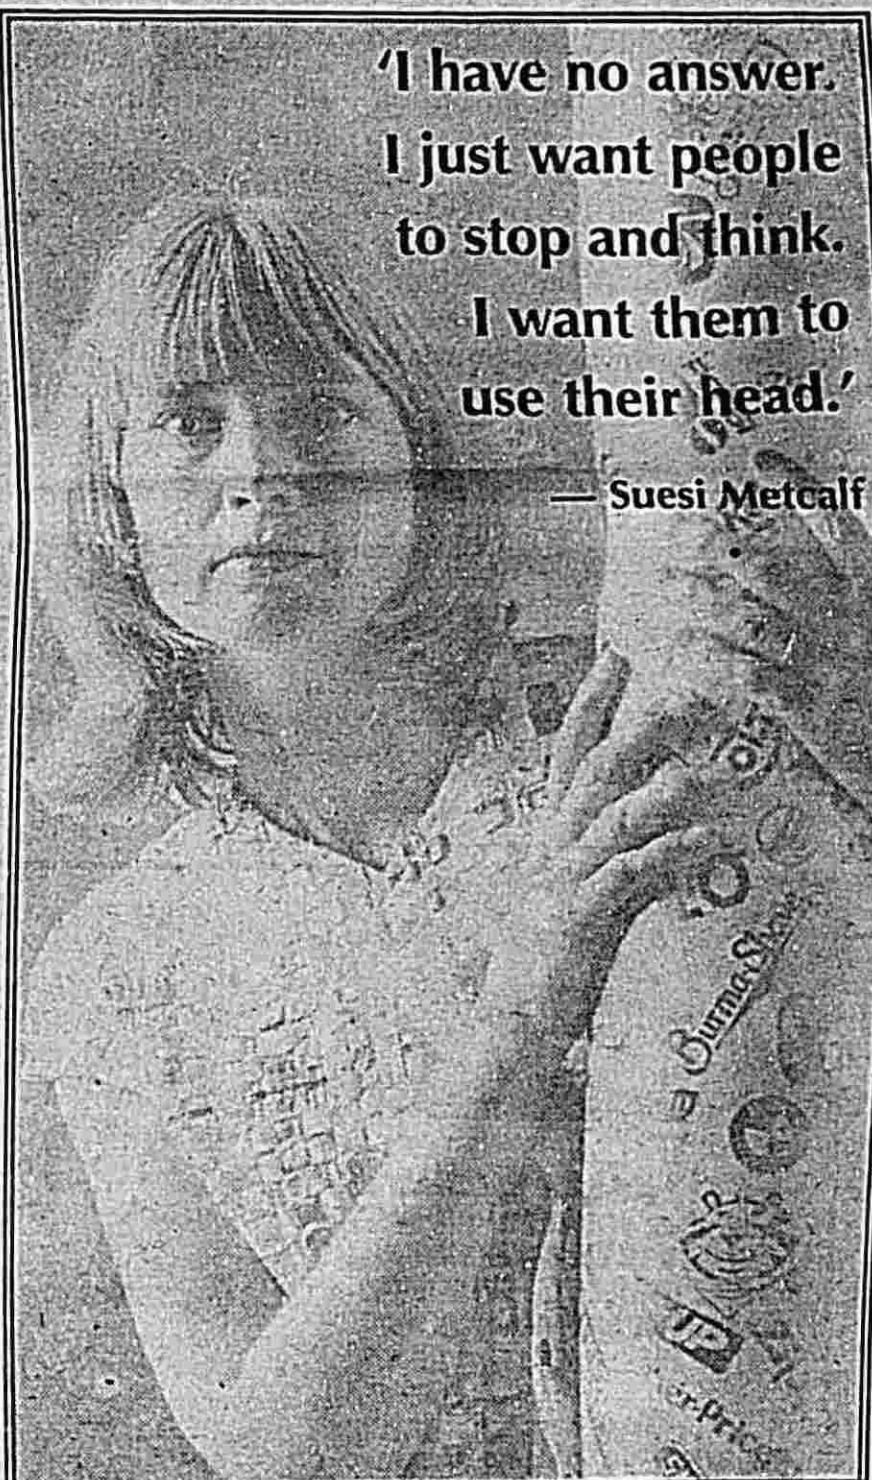

Her current exhibit began with the creation of Untitled #1, the piece made with children's photographs. She sent a photograph of the piece to some galleries in New York City and received a letter that she was accepted to do a one-woman show.

"I couldn't do a show with only one piece, so I got to work," said Metcalf. She explained, although she has many art works, the others wouldn't have fit with Untitled #1 as a cohesive whole.

Metcalf was bombarded with ideas for other pieces, but had some trouble with verbalizing the ideas. She credits Mundelein High School teacher Dick McNally with helping her come up with the name Seven Institutional Sins and with giving a name to each of her concept pieces. Although the pieces are untitled, visitors to the exhibit will be given a card with the seven sins — greed, dismissal, domination, manipulation, neglect, deceit and seduction — and will be asked to match the sin with the piece.

One of her art works, Untitled #6, is a casket lined with cream satin and a pillow. The lining and pillow are embroidered with 190 advertising slogans. One of her favorite slogans is "It always manages to stay up," an ad for a zipper. One of those she finds most disgusting is "Do you have the right kind of wife for it?"

The work portrays how advertising attempts to manipulate the buying public through sexual images.

She says shopping for the casket was an odd experience, but Kevin Kristan of Kristan Funeral Home was very helpful and inquisitive.

Untitled #2 is a reflection hologram of coins placed to look like columns encased in a rectangular box. On top is perched an empty bottle of Evian and at the base is a letter from the Evian company saying she could not use the bottle in her art. Metcalf said she was told by a lawyer she was covered by "freedom of expression."

Sunset Gallery offers unique storytelling for all ages

Tall stories translated into sculpture, found books containing three dimensional words—these are books transmuted into art that can hang on walls or stand alone. The Suburban Fine Arts Center's next exhibit "Unique Editions: Text, Structure and Performance" presents the book from the peculiar point of view of a range of artists.

The Unique Editions exhibit runs from Sept. 20 to Oct. 19 at the Sunset Gallery. The closing reception, Oct. 18 will be capped off by a unique edition performance by Brenda Wong Aoki performing "Random Acts of Kindness." Aoki is an award winning performance artist who has the gift of storytelling. Random Acts of Kindness will take place at 8 p.m. at the Highland Park Community House, 1991 Sheridan Rd., Highland Park. Tickets for this performance are $15 in advance and $18 at the door.

Chicagoan Ellen Roth Deutsch is curator for this exhibit, which will feature 29 prominent Chicago and suburban artists who explore this unique artistic concept in two and three dimensions.

The Suburban Fine Arts Center is a not for profit art gallery and school located at 1913 Sheridan Rd. in downtown Highland Park. The Center is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

For more information about the Unique Editions exhibit or the Storytelling performance, call 432-1888.

Nature classes

Children ages 8 to 12 with an interest in nature are invited to expand their horizons in September through classes offered by Stevenson High School's Patriot Recreation Education Program.

Classes on bird watching and insects will be held on Saturday, Sept. 21, while the weather and seeds will be covered on Saturday, Sept. 28. All classes will meet in room 6006 of Stevenson High School.

"Spiders, Ants and Flies, Oh My!" will be held on Saturday, Sept. 21 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Find out, up close and personal, the basics on insects, and why some are beneficial to man and some are harmful. The cost is $25, $20 for those registering by Sept. 20.

"Junior Bird Watchers," Saturday, Sept. 21 from noon to 1:30 p.m. Youngsters will learn about birds, how to watch them, how to use binoculars and how to attract birds to your yard. The cost is $16, and $13 for anyone registering by Sept. 20.

"Meteorology for Kids," Saturday, Sept. 28 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Why does it rain? Why doesn't it snow in summer? Should you be afraid of thunder?

Find out the answers to those and other questions for $16, $13 for those registering by Sept. 20.

"Discover Edible Seeds," Saturday, Sept. 28 from noon to 1:30 p.m. Look at the seeds we eat (peanuts, walnuts, etc.), seeds that smell good (cloves, etc.), seeds we add to our food to make it taste better (pepper, cumin, dill, etc.) and seeds in the wild. The cost is $12.50, or $10 for those signing up by Sept. 20.

For more information, call 634-4000, ext. 300.

Live reptiles

Experience live reptiles and amphibians of infinite variety—including a 16-foot-long Burmese Python, intriguing iguanas, colorful corn snakes, an amiable alligator, and more—at the Nature Museum's 14th annual HerPETological Weekend.

The event takes place Saturday, Sept. 21 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 22 from noon to 6 p.m. at The Nature Museum of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, North Pier Chicago, 3rd level, 435 E. Illinois St., at Lake Shore Drive, Chicago. Admission is $3 for adults, $2 for children and seniors.

For further information, call (312)871-2668.

Clay classes

Clay classes for children, teens and adults are offered at New Century Clayworks, 83 Ambrogio

Dr., Unit F, in Gurnee. Registrations are being taken now for fall classes. Adult and teen classes offer instruction in hand-building and the potter's wheel and begin the week of Sept.

16. Children's classes concentrate on hand building using coil, pinch and slab construction and being the week of Sept. 23. Clay, glazes and firings are included in the class fee. Call 625-1799.

Sins

Ten Commandments, inset with 12 advertising slogans. One of them is "Builds Strong Bodies 12 Ways" and another is "The Only Way to Fly."

"These are lies; they're advertising slogans which are out and out lies," said Metcalf.

Metcalf has had trouble with her health and has switched to a natural holistic diet. She has a problem with companies which are pushing unhealthy products through seductive advertising. Although she tries to educate her own children to be wary of advertising, she said they are still very influenced by the glamour of it. "You talk to teenagers and they have to look a certain way," she said. She said one day, her 5-year-old son was watching television and she heard "You have to have it." It was a commercial for a toy. "It's a sin. I really think that is," said Metcalf.

"I have no answer. I just want people to stop and think. I want them to use their head," she said.

"Seven Institutional Sins" will be at the Gang Gallery in New York from Oct. 23 to Nov. 9. Metcalf said it's difficult to sell this type of art work which doesn't fit into the scheme of most people's house decor. Regardless, she had the individual pieces priced by a professional from $500 to $20,000.

"It seems high to me, but the galleries take their cut. If I sell a couple of pieces, I'll more than break even," she said.

Planning a family reunion? Consider a cruise

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
 NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

A vacation with just the immediate family can sometimes be a very stressful event, let alone including aunts and uncles.

I can remember being confined to a station wagon for hours with my parents and four sisters. Just trying to agree at which motel we were to stay that evening could sometimes become such a battle that Dad was ready to turn around and go home. Now just add Uncle Vincent or Aunt Mary to the agreement process, as you would in a family reunion, and you could have an all out war!

That's where a cruise fits right in for a family reunion vacation! Everyone can be on the same ship. Evening parties can be arranged and adjoining cabins can be assigned (though I would not recommend the latter). However, everyone is free to choose separate daily activities on board, as well as unique shore excursions if they wish. The youngsters can go snorkeling while the seniors may enjoy a city tour.

There is no need to worry about who's going to bring the potato salad and who has to wash the dishes. Entertainment goes beyond watching the game on TV or playing cards. No one has to sleep on a cot in the living room or share a bed with their 80 year old aunt who snores.

Sure, it's going to cost more than everyone staying at Grandma's house for the weekend, but not as much as you may think.

Many cruise lines offer family reunion discounts for booking as few as three cabins. Additional discounts are offered for the 3rd and 4th person in a cabin. You don't have to plan on a full 7 day cruise either. An inexpensive 3 or 4 day cruise is just about right for a family reunion.

So let's get those cousins who always organize everything and plan for that long overdue reunion.

Rogalund Rosemaling will be held two consecutive weekends, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21 and 22, and Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28 and 29. Rosemaling is a folk art technique done with oil paints, consisting of a series of brush strokes that depict flowers, leaves and scroll stems. Apply traditional Japanese rice paste resist techniques on hand made rice paper on two Saturdays, Sept. 28 and Oct. 5. Make your own exotic greeting cards, book covers or decorative papers.

The Suburban Fine Arts Center is a not for profit art gallery and school located at 1913 Sheridan Rd. in downtown Highland Park. For more information, call 432-1888.

African art

African art, jewelry and textiles are being exhibited at the Community Gallery of Art located on the campus of the College of Lake County, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake. The exhibit will run through Sept. 29. Gallery hours are Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m. For additional information, call 223-6601, ext. 2240.

LECTURE

Degas lecture

Anticipating the modern candid camera by many years, Degas seemed to capture his models—ballerinas, cafe singers, and ladies at the millinery shop—unposed and unaware of being observed. Learn more about Degas' role in the impressionist movement and how his life influenced art. On Thursday, Sept. 26, at 7 p.m., Cook Memorial Library has invited Lee Gibbs to present an enlightening lecture and slide presentation about Degas' life and his work. Registration is required and can be made by calling, 362-2330.

'Primary Colors'

After months of denial and controversy, journalist Joe Klein recently admitted that he was "Anonymous," the author of the best-seller "Primary Colors." Klein will be the guest speaker at the College of Lake County at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 8 in the auditorium, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake. Tickets are $10 for the general public and $6 for CLC students and alumni. For tickets, call 223-6601, ext. 2300.

DANCE

Buoys and Belles

Buoys and Belles Square Dance Club is sponsoring an Apple Jack Dance (apple pie night) on Friday, Sept. 20 at First United Methodist Church, 128 N. Utica St., Waukegan. Plus workshop is held from 8 to 8:30 p.m., main stream and round dancing from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m., and plus tip at 10:30 p.m. Cost is $3.50 per person. All modern western square dancers in the area are invited. Call 662-6546 for further information.

Solo Singles

Solo Singles is planning a Super Dance for ages 35 and up singles on Friday, Sept. 20 at the Holiday Inn, Rtes. 45 and 83 in Mundelein. The dance will be held from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. Admission is $8. Dress up attire is required. There will be a cash bar and drawings. For further information, call 945-3866.

Special Events

Lost lease sale set

The Defenders will hold their second annual "Lost Our Lease Sale" on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20 and 21. The sale will be held at the Waste Not Warehouse, 14512 W. Washington St. (Rte. 120) in Woodstock from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. both days. Prices will be marked down 20 to 50 percent on all used merchandise. Salvaged art supplies for teachers will also be available. For further information, call (815)338-0527.

Native American dance kicks off celebration

Lake Forest College's First American Celebration will kick off on Friday, Sept. 20 at 5 p.m. with Native American dances. This program will include audience participation with children especially invited to join in on the fun. The program will take place outside of Commons on Middle Campus (just northeast of Sheridan and College Roads). Art Shegonee, a member of the Menominee and Potawatomi tribes, along with Native American drummers will be featured. In addition to the music, there will be discussions about the costumes and rituals. For further information, call 735-6010.

Annual bookfair coming to Lakehurst

More than 40,000 "pre-owned" books will be offered at Lakehurst Mall, Waukegan from Sept. 21 through Sept. 27 at the 29th Annual Book Fair, sponsored by Interfaith Chaplaincy Services, Inc., of Lake County. Proceeds from the bookfair support chaplaincy services provided by Interfaith Chaplaincy Services, Inc., to the Winchester House and the Lake County jail.

Soap Opera stars visit Gurnee Mills

Gurnee Mills will be hosting a "Behind the Scenes with Soap Opera Digest" tour, featuring appearances by soap stars, interactive exhibits, samples, coupons and giveaways. Event will be held during mall hours near Show Court (Entry G/H). For further details call, 263-7500.

LeMond to lead 100-mile bike ride

The "Greg LeMond Great Chicago to Milwaukee Bike Ride" will take place Saturday, Sept. 21 at the corner of Lake and Pfingsten in Glenview, 37001 W. Lake Ave. building. The ride also marks the 10th anniversary of LeMond's historic, first-ever American victory in the Tour de France. Entry fee is $45, with proceeds benefitting Thresholds, a rehabilitation program for people with mental illness. The ride will feature 100, 62 and 25 mile courses. For more information, call 1(800)637-3135.

Yom Kippur to be observed

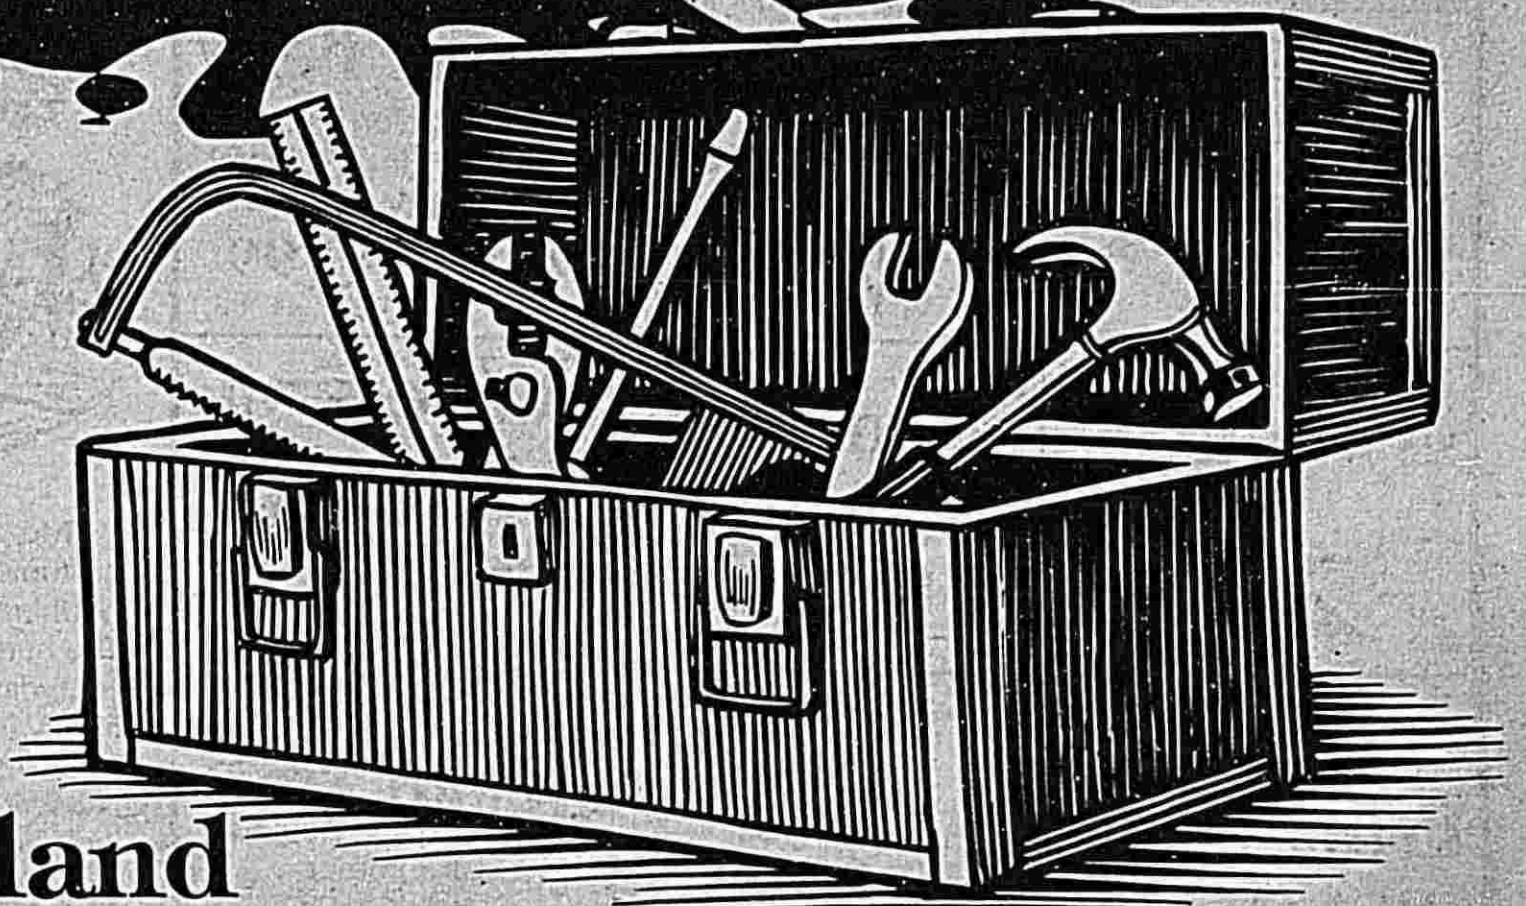

Congregation Am Echod, 1500 Sunset Ave., Waukegan, will observe the holiday of Yom Kippur, Day of Atonement. Service schedule is Sunday, Sept. 22 at 6:40 p.m.; Monday, Sept. 23, 8:30 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. with a memorial service beginning at noon.

Yom Kippur comes 10 days after the start of the Jewish New Year. It is the most solemn day of the Hebrew calendar. The entire period of time from sunset, Sept. 22 until the sound of the Shofar, ram's horn on Sept. 23 is spend in prayer and fasting. The ram's horn is sounded at dark to announce the conclusion of the fast. The Jewish religion teaches that God's judgment for the ensuing year is decided at the close of prayers on Yom Kippur afternoon.

7 Days a WeekChecklist for winterizing heating equipment

Before winter sets in, is the time to get your furnace tuned up and have your chimney cleaned, urges North Shore Gas, which supplies fuel to heat nearly 95 percent of all homes and apartments in the area.

The utility reminds its customers that the two critical components in most heating units are the venting and combustion systems. These systems should be kept in good operating order for the safety of home occupants.

The gas company recommends that chimneys, flue pipes, through-the-wall vents, and draft hood surfaces be inspected for deposits of soot, signs of corrosion, and cracks. Any damaged part or component should be repaired immediately.

When checking the heating plant's combustion chamber, look for cracks and soot deposits. See if the burner flames show traces of yellow. If you encounter such conditions, any start-up problems, or other difficulties, North Shore Gas recommends calling a heating contractor.

Here are some suggestions concerning the following gas equipment:

- Furnaces—Permanent air filters should be kept clean, and disposable filters should be replaced when necessary. Also, check the fan belt for tension and signs of wear. (It's a good idea to keep an extra belt on hand for emergencies). If you have a furnace-connected humidifier, be sure it's clean and in good working order.

- Room heaters—Be sure to replace components that are missing or damaged. Broken glass fronts should be replaced.

- Hot water boiler systems—Check radiator air vents. Open vent slightly to bleed any air from the system and use a cup or can to catch any water run-off; then close vent. Also, heating systems will be more efficient if radiator surfaces are kept clean.

It is advisable to call on your heating contractor to tune up your heating equipment; but if you plan on doing the work yourself, be sure to follow the manufacturer's instructions.

To ensure efficient and reliable performance, all gas heating units and vent systems should be professionally cleaned and inspected periodically.

On request, the utility will provide customers with a list of reputable heating professionals who can perform furnace inspections and other appliance maintenance measures.

Customers can obtain the list by calling their local gas utilization representative at 336-7400.

Mega Discount Nursery offers retail customers wholesale prices on all its northern grown nursery stock items. The nursery prides itself on offering everyday prices at 50 to 75 percent below any other nursery in the State of Wisconsin and Illinois. Mega Discount Nursery is the only discount nursery in the Midwest.

"We offer a lot of variety," said Mike Beaumont, owner. "For fall we specialize in evergreen plantings, spruces, pines, bulbs and arborvitae. All of our stock is northern grown so cold won't kill them.

Arborvitae, one of the nursery's specialties and most popular items, is used as a natural privacy fence and a wind barrier. Mega Discount Nursery also features a variety of other evergreens such as spirals, poodles and bonsai.

And something unique to Mega Discount Nursery is their display of indoor/outdoor molded lava rock waterfalls. They are hand-carved with bonsai engulfed in rock, cascading into the water. Also, don't forget to visit their Petting Zoo with a dwarf donkey and turkey.

The nursery employs a crew who is all very knowledgeable in botany. "The people who work for us are very knowledgeable about what we sell and can help customers with questions about how to care for the nursery stock and what types of growing conditions are best," Beaumont said. "Our botanist can identify plants by their leaves for a customer as well. If it's a northern grown variety we can identify it and tell a customer how to take care of it."

Mega Discount Nursery is located at 1901 E. Rawson Ave. in Oak Creek, Wis. only 20 minutes from the state line. The nursery is open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Call (414) 571-6565.

Schmidt Implement—a family affair

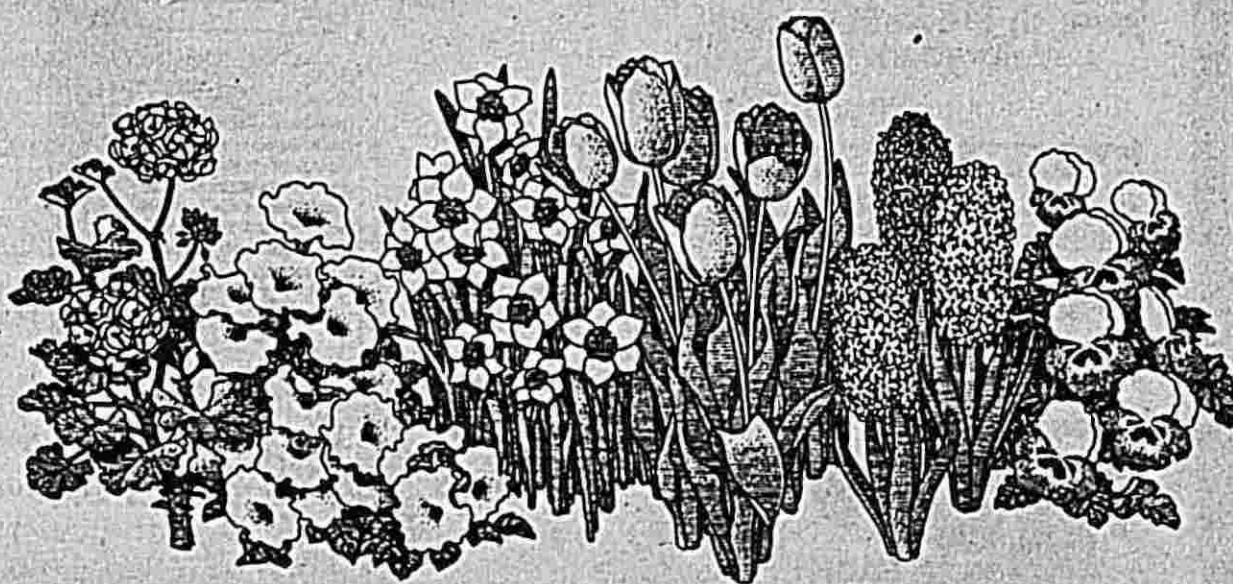

In 1923, Frank Schmidt moved from the farm into Salem, Wis. and bought a farm equipment business that operated in an old livery stable. Horses were a common trade-in in those days. His son, Al Schmidt, took over the business in 1935 and led the company into years of growth and a new building in the 1960s at the intersection of Hwys. AH and 83 in Salem.

By the time Al's son, Bob replaced him in 1970, the company was changing with the community and was selling John Deere lawn and garden tractors. Currently, Bob and his son, Dave, the fourth generation of the family in the business, serve a customer base that is half non-farm. Schmidt's has grown to be one of the largest John Deere lawn equipment dealers in the state.

Schmidt Implement has always strived to provide the best customer service to all they do business with. Whether you need a new spark plug or to invest in large equipment, the friendly people at Schmidt Implement will take the time to make sure your needs are met. Equipment is sold assembled and ready to use with delivery service available. They encourage their customers to service their equipment over the off-season winter months; service packages are available. Financing is available on site, not only for new and used equipment, but for parts and repair service as well. So for all your equipment needs, you can rely on Schmidt Implement, family owned and operated since 1923. Call (414)843-2326 for more information.

Jack & Sons full service lawn and garden center

The garden center has a wide selection of plants, balled and burlap trees and shrubs, a large variety of bagged and bulk products such as stone and wood chips and top soils, as well as five acres of locally grown in ground stock, that will ensure decorative and healthy landscaping.

Jack's features a full line of lawn mowers, garden tractors, tillers, and snowthrowers by such well-known names as Lawn Boy and Ariens, as well as Echo string trimmers, edgers, chain saws and cultivators. Financing with no interest for the first six months is available.

Jack and Sons Lawn and Garden Center is a factory authorized warranted service center for Briggs & Stratton, Ariens and Lawn Boy, and also sells and services equipment by Tecumseh and Kohler.

Installation of selected stock, lawn maintenance and snow removal are also offered and Jack's will build a Hartland Storage Shed on the site of your choice.

Pick up and delivery are furnished for all equipment being serviced. Parts for lawn mowers and snow throwers can also be purchased at Jack's Garden Center, as well as used equipment.

Jack's is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. except for Wednesday when it is closed. Saturday hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Sunday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Decorating DEN

franchise independently owned & operated. © 1996 DCSI. Internet - <http://www.DecoratingDen.com>.

Decorating Den brings store to you

When Mary Leben drives her Decorating Den color van up to a client's home or business, she not only brings a "store full" of decorating supplies with her, but she brings her 10 years of decorating experience along for good measure.

Decorating Den is a full-service mobile decorating service carrying a product mix of draperies, blinds and shades, wall coverings and carpets, plus furniture and accessories. Decorating Den leaves nothing out, and nothing to chance, when it comes to making your home look exactly as you dreamed it could. Whether it's windows or floors, Mary takes exact measurements for the new coverings you have chosen from her wide variety of samples.

This fall, Decorating Den is holding a fall home sale event that will offer customers 30 percent off decorating products through Oct. 26.

Mary, who operates out of the Gurnee, Grayslake area, will travel all over Lake County to serve her customers. Just call (847)662-6612 anytime for an appointment.

If Mary isn't there, or if she's busy with another client, she will get right back to you, and after conducting a short interview on the phone to find out just what you're looking for, she will arrive at your home or business with a complete line of home decorating products, her expertise, and professional, but super friendly manner, which will have you on your way to your decorating goal immediately.

Pfeiffer's - successful family business

Pete and Cheryl Pfeiffer started out working on the old Ford tractors over 11 years ago. Now, along with their son Brad and his wife Wendy, they are proud owners of a lawn and garden equipment center that still works on classic tractors from the 1940s to the present.

Pfeiffer's Sales and Service also offer such lines as Dixon ZTR, White, Cub Cadet, Snapper, Husqvarna, Homelite and Simplicity. These are the finest brands of lawn mowers, lawn rebuilding hydraulic cylinders and pumps. The garden center sells and repairs tires, tubes, wheels, and installs calcium chloride, along with featuring major diesel and gasoline engine overhauls.

Pedersen's features Snapper Equipment

If your driving down Hwy. 173 towards Antioch, glance to your right and you can't miss the large sign and many vehicles on display at Pedersen GMC Truck, located at 19588 Hwy. 173, just east of Antioch.

Pedersen's is celebrating the 60th anniversary of this family-owned business of long standing, that was founded by Alfred J. Pedersen, and is owned and operated today by Al, Bob, Greg, Al Jr., Dean and Dale Pedersen.

Pedersen's sells a wide variety of lawn and garden equipment, and in honor of that anniversary they are now featuring Snapper Lawn and Garden Equipment and Snapper Snowthrowers all backed by Pedersen's guarantee that places them among the finest available.

Snapper walk and ride-on lawn-mowers, feature mulching and bagging for the health of your lawn, as well as zero turn mowers that allow closer trimming of your lawn.

As soon as Autumn's beauty fades and winter's white blanket covers Lake County, the Snapper Snowthrower, with its two-stage and electric start options, is one piece of equipment you can't be without.

For 60 years, Pedersen's has been offering the finest service on everything they sell. Pedersen's also offers pick up and delivery on mowers and snowthrowers to be serviced.

Pedersen's knowledgeable staff is waiting to answer all your questions and help guide you to the purchase that will fill your individual needs. All vehicles at Pedersen's carry a special sale price.

Attention late bloomers.

It's time for the fall color of garden mums. These hardy bloomers are one of the easiest to grow. And they display enough color to make those turning tree leaves envious. The garden mum has been called "America's Most Popular Perennial" — and with good reason. With the proper care and a bit of help from Mother Nature, garden mums have the potential to bloom again and again every autumn.

So if you need a good excuse to get outdoors this fall, grab an armload of our spectacular garden mums, available now at Leider's Garden Greenery.

White carpeting: A profile in courage

While paying a visit to my friend Bernie's lovely new house, I was most impressed by her decorating derring-do. Everywhere I went in her home, I was awed by her brave use of the color white. White walls. White cabinets. White floor tiles. White bedspreads. Even (gulp) white furniture.

But what really stopped me in my tracks was the white carpeting. When I spotted that carpeting, my first thought was that Bernie was either a truly courageous woman or would soon begin drooling and speaking in tongues. I didn't know whether to give her a medal or shock treatment.

I soon realized, of course, that she was neither of those things. She is simply a woman with a flair for decorating whose children are well past the age of Kool-Aid and who has attained a certain confidence and comfort with her spray carpet cleaner. I guess you could say that at this point in her life, she has reached "Carpet Karma".

I can partially relate, at least to the carpet cleaner portion. Thanks to the newer spray carpet cleaners like Resolve®, things have improved somewhat over the years.

When my oldest sons were small, I thought I would be forced to spend the rest of my life with what appeared to be paisley-patterned carpets. The kind where company comes over and you're always saying, "That's okay. You can step there. It's dry. That's where little Sean spilled his seventeenth glass of Kool-Aid on the rug. If you study the color, you'll be able to identify the other sixteen spills and step on them without worry."

And I used to have to rely on books like "Heloise's Hints" to remove carpet stains with various home remedies. However, these remedies depended on the assumption that you actually knew what the stain was. In a busy household, this was not always the case. Especially when children moved furniture over spots to cover them up, knowing that it could be weeks (okay, months!) before I moved the furniture to vacuum under it and discovered the spot.

Then it required a good deal of archeological-type research by Mom and Dad to try and determine the exact time, date and content of the spot.

"What do you think, dear? It's mostly brown. Does this look like a 'Smores' from our backyard campfire last summer? Or maybe it was the dog. Do you think one of us should smell it to be sure?"

"You first."

"Chicken!"

But today, thanks to modern technological advances in spray carpet cleaners, I no longer have to sniff carpet stains or hyperventilate when I see my child sneaking off to the family room with a glass of Kool-Aid. Even so, I have a long way to go before I reach true "Carpet Karma" like my friend Bernie.

Until that day arrives, I would no more think of installing white carpeting than I would think of piercing my stretch marks and wearing hip huggers. Some may call me "chicken", but I just feel safer sticking with certain "family-proof" carpet colors, like "Hairball Hazel" or "I Can't Believe It's Not Dirt".

I am, after all, the mother of four children, all of whom spoke the same first words:

"It was an accident."

PARENT'S PLACE

Does ADD really exist? It does!

DR. SHERRI SINGER

I had a great letter written to me this last week that I would like to launch right into since I have had similar questions asked by so many people. So, right onto the letters.

Dear Dr. Singer,

I read your column a few days ago and it really made me think. Specifically, how kids seem to be really picking up on all the possible disorders that can effect them, out there. In my mind, disorders like ADD have seemed to really grow in numbers. Especially lately. Do you believe that ADD really exists and if so, how do you see it impacting our kids? B.B.

Dear B.B.,

First, I'm really glad you're reading my column as well as contributing to it! I'm also very concerned about the whole ADD topic. In answer to whether I believe ADD exists, I believe it does. My problem with it is that I don't believe it exists as much as it is diagnosed to exist. I have seen many people come in who have self-diagnosed ADD in their child based on one or two symptoms.

I have had the same type of report from teachers as well. I don't mean to say that parents or teachers shouldn't be concerned about it, but I do feel that we've become too focused on the "one or two symptom" approach. In fact, most of the people who have come to me absolutely sure that ADD is it for their child, are surprised to find out that it turns out not to be it. A simple behavior program we do has taken care of the problems many of my clients have experienced with their kids, close to immediately. Please understand that the child is fully evaluated first and whether results are or are not consistent with ADD, this program has really helped.

Sometimes, ADD symptoms can be caused by lots of other things. For example, I have seen kids who are gifted and bored in class act out. I have seen kids with tremendous emotional stress or anxiety act out. I have seen kids who get away with everything at home, go into the school situation and not be able to deal with the structure act out as well.

ADD is not about a kid who has a lot of energy or about a kid who goes off task. ADD is about a list of characteristics that are seen consistently.

ADD exists. I believe, however, that before treatment is sought for that disorder, I think that it's important to have the child thoroughly screened or evaluated prior to going for treatment or labeling. It should be looked at as a "rule out" and not an "absolute." I also think that because we want to be careful about providing "ready-made" excuses for kids who are not particularly on a success road. Every kid can succeed. We need to provide for them the success orientation. Be careful how you talk about ADD in front of your child even if the child is diagnosed with it. If you have more questions, feel free to call for an appointment. Write me again! Take care!

It's Terry's for county's finest Mexican cuisine!

Discerning Lake county diners, in search of the finest Mexican food in the area, have learned that Terry's Mexican Restaurant, at 325 N. Seymour in Hawley Commons, Mundelein, is the place to go.

In this attractive south of the border atmosphere, they have found a Latin culinary adventure beyond compare, one that starts with delicious appetizers such as Terry's Texas torpedoes, spicy chicken wings or spinach and mushroom quesadillas.

Terry's list of popular entrees is a long and scrumptious one that includes pork or beef tenderloin Chilaqueles, peppered chicken, Tornados de la Casa, or Paella for two, not to mention Nachos Imperial for two. Steak lovers desiring something different will be more than pleased with the New York strip Asada or the Tex-Mex steak. Other mouth-watering specials offered are the shrimp and peaches plus a myriad of standard Mexican dishes.

Terry's is now serving the all new health meat. Ostrich Fajitas! To your health!

Seafood aficionados come back again and again for more of Terry's king crab legs, and lobster tail served with Margarita butter, Fruta del Mar, or the taste pleasing catfish with a variety of toppings.

Friday and Saturday menu favorites include Chipotle flavored roast duck, chicken, pork and beef tenderloin from the rotisserie. A special finish to a special meal should be one of Terry's famous homemade desserts such as ice cream pie, cherry or apple Chimichanga, or the delectable mousse of the day.

Well-known Chicago area Epicurean and restaurant critic Sherman Kaplan agrees with Terry's favorite customers by giving this palate pleasing food an enthusiastic thumbs up with 16K out of a possible 20.

Closed on Sunday, Terry's is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday's hours are from 4 to 10 p.m. Reservations are accepted in this wheelchair accessible restaurant.

For those celebrating special occasions, Terry's also has an attractive party room that seats up to 60. Call (847) 566-9530 for reservations and more information.

Child star steals 'Bogus'

Even big stars like Whoopi Goldberg and France's superstar Gerard Depardieu can find themselves facing the nemesis of all actors, children and dogs. In the new Norman Jewison movie, "Bogus," the adults have good reason to worry about being upstaged as the little boy from "Forrest Gump," Hailey Joel Osmont, steals the picture out from under their expert noses.

This fluffy family movie, rated PG, is a departure for Jewison, who usually turns out heavy weight flicks like "Moonstruck" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

We have a little boy, Osmont, who has to go and live with his mother's foster sister after he is orphaned. The foster sister is a rather hard-nosed career woman played by Whoopi.

On the way to Whoopi's

Women's board to host 'A Night in the Forest'

The Lake Forest Hospital Women's Board invites all to spend "A Night in the Forest" under shimmering September stars with singer/songwriter extraordinaire Paul Anka. The stage is set for a memorable musical evening on Saturday, Sept. 21 as legendary showman Paul Anka performs at Lake Forest Hospital's Annual Benefit.

Anka's timeless musical career includes such popular hits as "Put Your Head on My Shoulder," "My Way," and the now famous theme from "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson."

An exciting variety of prizes will be featured during the silent auction including a golf lunch and "football chat" with Jan Wanstedt at the Knollwood Club. For further information call 234-6112.

house, yearning for someone of his own to love, the child invents an imaginary friend whom only he can see through most of the picture.

The friend turns out to be a rather unlikely oafish giant with a French accent, Depardieu.

Will Whoopi relent and learn to love the kid? Will anyone else ever get to see Depardieu, who actually becomes lovable as the movie progresses? Tune in to see the predictable, after the happenings of the movie's first half hour set the scene.

Whoopi, who usually plays a wisecracking softy, is a bit of a waste in this rather dull crotchety part.

This reviewer has never been able to warm up to Depardieu, though we do have to admit he does have his moments of clodish appeal.

Osmont gives an outstanding performance as he establishes himself as one of the better child actors performing today.

"Bogus" is a better value on the video scene. We give it a 2.5 out of five stars, with a plus going to its good clean family values. We have the nagging feeling that this could have been a lot better, instead of just adding to Hollywood's gigantic mountain of mediocrity.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Gerard Depardieu and Hailey Joel Osmont

ANSWERS

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) That reimbursement or refund check you've been counting on isn't likely to come anytime soon, so stop stalking the mailbox. Later in the week, sit down and think about how you must adjust your budget. Time by yourself is recommended this weekend.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're not feeling on stable ground with your significant other, but don't force the issue. This person is touchy this week and a fight could ensue. This weekend, a revelation comes to you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You've really been pushing yourself hard and need to relax a bit. If possible, take some time off this week from the job. Feel free to indulge and treat yourself to a minor luxury. Someone you're interested in romantically doesn't share those feelings.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Unfortunately, things aren't going your way this week. This makes you out of sorts and you tend to snap at co-workers and family members. Try to take this in stride and guard your temper.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You're letting a certain cantankerous co-worker get on your nerves. Forget this person's gripes. You have things to do. Don't allow yourself to look bad in the eyes of bigwigs by ignoring tasks at hand.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Friends and family aren't really as supportive as you'd like concerning something you propose early in the week. Nevertheless, believe in yourself and stick to your plans. The weekend is favored for taking up a new hobby.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You're beside yourself with worry over the spending habits of your mate. Instead of blowing your top, take time to have a heart-to-heart talk to straighten things out. If not, your mutual finances will suffer.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You can't seem to concentrate on the job this week. Co-workers resent this and feel you're slacking off. Look for ways you can motivate yourself before bigwigs are forced to step in.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Make sure your business and home lives are kept separate. A co-worker is being intrusive into your private life and you've been allowing it. Nip this in the bud now. At home, avoid insisting on getting your own way.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Stop feeling so sorry for yourself. You're not as ignored and misunderstood as you'd like to believe. Those around you are busy with their own pursuits. Over the weekend, you can all catch up.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You're not thrilled with what someone has to tell you. You've been too self-absorbed and overbearing. Remember, you don't always know what's best, despite what you'd like to believe. Open your mind.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Work hours are hectic this week. You love to help those in need, but your input is sometimes perceived as meddling, which causes you to feel insulted. Don't overreact. You'll regret those bitter words.

Regular dental visits can eliminate dragon breath

Eliminating bad breath is possible, but before dragon breath can be slain, a culprit must be uncovered.

"Bad breath can indicate a variety of problems," explains Cheryl Watson-Lowry, DDS, a general dentist who practices on Chicago's south side. "Before the condition can be treated, it is necessary to determine the source of halitosis."

Causes of bad breath can range from simple oral hygiene problems to serious medical conditions. Some possible reasons for bad breath include the following:

The tongue—The primary growth location for microorganisms, the tongue is a major source of halitosis. Certain people, for unknown reasons, have slightly higher levels of anaerobic bacteria which accumulates on the back of the tongue and throat. The bacteria, which is evident in a coating on the tongue, produces volatile sulfur compounds which release foul-smelling gases.

"Bad breath from the tongue usually smells quite different than the odor from periodontal disease," says Dr. Watson-Lowry. "The tongue is often neglected during regular oral health care, providing an ideal breeding ground for bacteria."

Morning breath—Probably the most common and recognized source of bad breath, morning breath occurs when saliva production decreases during sleep and fewer bacteria are washed away. Different from conventional bad breath, morning breath begins to disappear with talking, eating or drinking.

Hunger breath—Missing a meal is the cause of "hunger breath." Saliva decreases because of a lack of chewing. As a result, the breakdown products of foods and proteins eaten previously are exhaled, creating an unpleasant odor.

Periodontal Disease—Breath malodor often serves as an indicator of periodontal disease. If the entire mouth, including teeth, gums and the tongue, is not cleaned regularly, plaque coats the teeth. Eventually, plaque can spread under the gumline creating pockets between the teeth and gums. Bacteria accumulates in the pockets which breaks down protein and dead cells, causing an offensive odor. Bleeding gums, also an indicator of periodontal disease, may intensify the odor.

Food—Contrary to popular belief, experts say that bad breath from the stomach is exceptionally rare. Certain foods, however, are notorious sources of halitosis. The main offenders, garlic and onions, can remain on the breath for up to 24 hours. Because they enter the blood stream, travel through the digestive system, and are released through the lungs, brushing and flossing do little to remedy their odor. Even garlic rubbed on the skin

Drugs to treat ADHD can be fatal

FRED A. BAUGHMAN, Jr. MD
ADHD and Death—Part II

The June 1, 1990 Medical Letter on Drugs and Therapeutics reported the sudden deaths on three children with "behavior disorders" taking the tricyclic antidepressant, desipramine. In the wake of these deaths, there was speculation as to the mechanism and debate as to whether desipramine, in children, should be embargoes.

Next, came the 1993 report of Riddle, et al, of a fourth sudden death with desipramine. In cases No. 1, a boy 8 years old; No. 2, another boy 8 years old, and No. 4, a girl, 12 years old, the behavior disorder was Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). Case No. 3 was a 9 year old boy with "depression."

Following the fourth death, the Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry published a debate between child psychiatrists Johns Werry of the University of Auckland, New Zealand and Joseph Biederman of Harvard University and three of his colleagues.

Arguing that desipramine "merely ameliorates," "does not cure" and "could never be described a life-saving," Werry argued that "pharmacological and toxicological data, pragmatic and ethical considerations suggest that desipramine should no longer be used clinically in children." What he neglected to say in portraying the risk/benefit ratio, what that none of the behavioral disorders for which the drug is prescribed—ADHD, childhood depression, obsessive-compulsive or panic disorder, conduct and oppositional defiant disorder are proven diseases, or anything whatsoever biologic or organic.

For all the efforts of North American biopsychiatry, in league with the pharmaceutical industry, to create the illusion of human maladaptations as "diseases," not one has been found to have a confirmatory physical or chemical abnormality. Not one is a disease. This being the case, not one is beyond non-pharmacologic amelioration, and not one, absent pharmacologic treatment, ever resulted in death or permanent brain damage.

Defending desipramine and urging its continued use, Biederman, et al, dismiss an "anecdotal" the deaths of four children with no organic disease that occurred while those children were taking medication known to be heart-toxic. The only physical risk that these or any children similarly diagnosed are confronted with are those borne by the medications they are given. They have no "disease."

Such is the deception and house of cards of bio-psychiatry, weaving illusions of brain diseases where there are non. Such in near-invariable deception in the name of disclosure and informed consent, going on today in North America, that has resulted in the incredible ADHD epidemic, having risen from a half million in 1988 to 4.4 million today, while the sale of Ritalin, the primary drug with which to treat it has risen six-fold from 1990-1995, seven-fold in neighboring Vancouver, BC, Canada. All of this, mind you, with no confirmation that ADHD is anything other than a cluster of behaviors in normal, troubled, troublesome, undisciplined, mis-educated children. No, a pill will not cure it. Yes, the hard work is yet to be done, at home and in the school.

Why, given four deaths in children (now five), and reminded by Werry, a senior psychiatrist, of the physician's adage "primum non nocere," "the first thing is to do no harm," do Biederman, et al, See ADHD page B27

Alzheimer's research grants awarded

The Illinois Department of Public Health has awarded six grants totaling $92,500 for Alzheimer's disease research, Dr. John R. Lumpkin, state public health director, announced.

Funding for the grants is from the Alzheimer's Disease Research Fund, a special fund to which taxpayers can contribute through their IL-1040 income tax returns. Since 1986, when the fund first appeared on the tax forms, nearly $1.4 million has been donated to help support 74 research projects.

"Alzheimer's disease is a physically, emotionally, socially and financially devastating disease, not only for the person who suffers from it, but for his or her family," Dr. Lumpkin said. "The continued generosity of Illinois taxpayers allows critical research into the causes and treatment of the disease to continue."

Victims of this age-related form of dementia suffer a progressive loss of memory, attention span and the ability to learn. The disease affects nearly 4 million Americans, about 200,000 in Illinois.

And the winners are!

Winners of the Children's Coloring Contest for the Urgent Care Center in Gurnee were awarded cash prizes. The contest was a stylized map drawn by local cartoonist Larry Zanco of Waukegan. Children were invited to color in the map and include their important landmarks. Children included everything from best friend's houses to grandma's house to several area restaurants. Winners included (back row) Rigo Ortiz, John Barlow, Scott McPherson, Russell Dalbke, Dennon McMillan. Front row, Monica Przybyio, Eric Li and Sara Moran. Not pictured is Katelyn Hilst.

New Employee Health Center treats on-the-job injuries

Employers are always looking for ways to tweak the bottom line. Now, a new facility in Vernon Hills helps smaller companies keep Workman's Comp costs under control. Fortune 500 businesses employ doctors to keep costs reasonable.

Now, the Employee Health Center, a new venture by Saint Therese Corporate Health Services, gives other businesses the same advantages. The new facility treats on-the-job injuries, performs drug screens, physical exams, Workman's Comp audits, worker rehabilitation and more. Their only focus is health care for employers.

The Employee Health Center is staffed by an occupational health physician. Dr. Patel has worked in occupational health for over 12 years. He can look at a workplace and give you an idea of potential hazards to your employees both immediate (i.e. a bump that the forklift is going to hit at some point and injure the driver) and long-term (i.e. carpal tunnel for a secretary with a keyboard in the wrong position). He understands jobs and the functions that are necessary to perform them. That means he can get injured workers back to work faster.

"Dr. Patel is the only occupational health physician in the area. He has a distinct advantage over other physicians. He understands jobs and an employer's need to get injured workers back to work faster. He works for the employer. The big companies are able to have their own doctor in-house who works for them to control costs.

Now, we offer those same advantages to the small or medium size employers. Just because you don't have a big business budget, doesn't mean you can't have the same advantages," said Christopher Looby, director of Saint Therese Corporate Health Services.

The Employee Health Center is offering a free "Paying Too Much in Workman's Comp?" special to everyone in the area. They are offering employers a three part representative sampling of their services. The first is an analysis of the Workman's Comp injuries. The second is a limited medical walk-through by Dr. Patel to analyze potential hazards in an employer's workplace. The third part is a Workman's Comp insurance rate audit.

"The 'Paying Too Much Workman's Comp?' special is an excellent example of our service," said Looby. "These are services that we charge for, and clients find very useful. What employer doesn't want a quick audit to find out if his Workman's Comp insurance is out of line? Or what employer wouldn't like to know that unless he gets rid of that bump, he's going to end up paying in lost wages and Workman's Comp for an injured employee? And we're offering these services for free. Savvy employers would be smart to take advantage of the special."

The Employee Health Center is located at Butterfield Road and Hawthorn Parkway, just north of Route 60 in Vernon Hills. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Safe Sitter class offered

Good Shepherd Hospital will offer a Safe Sitter Class for 11 to 13 year old boys and girls who are interested in learning how to handle emergencies when caring for younger children. The two-day class will be offered on Saturday, Sept. 28 and Sunday, Sept. 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Participants should bring a sack lunch. The cost for the class is $45.

The class includes instruction in basic child care skills, child growth and development, how to deal with medical emergencies, emergency first aid, rescue breathing, and safety tips to know while sitting.

Eating disorders lecture set

Many of the approximately eight million people who suffer from an eating disorder are adolescents. In response, Highland Park Hospital's Lifespan Challenges for Women Program will present "Eating Disorders and Your Adolescent" on Wednesday, Sept. 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's education center. Psychiatrist Stephen Galston, MD, medical director of the hospital's eating disorders program, will discuss how to recognize the early warning signs, treatments available today, and other related topics. To register for this program call 432-1161.

'Baby's First Year' program offered

Seven to 10 month old children are quickly learning the sense of touch. Marveling at shiny objects and reaching out to touch the fluffy four-legged animals in your home are all temptations waiting for your child to explore. Lake Forest Hospital offers "Baby's First Year, Reaching Out: Baby's Exploring!" on Saturday, Sept. 28 at 8:30 a.m. at Dearhaven Child Care Center which is located on the hospital campus. Parents and their babies are invited to participate in this fun activity workshop. Learn how to encourage that new wonderment of seven to 10 month olds. Topics covered include safety around the house, healthy habits and routines. To register for this free program, call 234-6112.

Free cancer screenings available

Free breast and cervical cancer screenings are offered to eligible Lake County women through the Illinois Breast and Cervical Cancer Project, located at the Lake County Health Dept. Through the Project, women receive, at no cost to them, a complete medical examination, a clinical breast exam and a pap test, as well as referral for a free mammogram at a local hospital. Ongoing yearly exams and medical follow-up are also provided. Examinations are done at the clinics of the Lake County Health Dept. and are by appointment. To find out if you are eligible, call 360-2917.

Dealing with HIV-infected clients

The Catholic Health Alliance for Metropolitan Chicago, Catholic Charities of Chicago and Saint Therese Medical Center are sponsoring a community education workshop at Saint Therese on Tuesday, Sept. 24 from 6 to 8 p.m. Five dollar donations for the box dinner are being accepted. "The Faces of AIDS" will be a multifaceted program featuring the experiences of four committed professionals and four community members who face the reality of HIV/AIDS everyday. Spiritual, societal and medical aspects will be interwoven to provide understanding, proper treatment and optimal prevention. To register for this program call, 360-2473.

so vigorously defend the continued use of desipramine in children? Werry's age, 40 years on medicine, would have tempered his judgment as it would with all physicians as they grow older and, hopefully, wiser. But this, I think does not explain why Werry concludes that desipramine use in children should be stopped, while Biederman, et al, vigorously defend and even urge its continued use. All parties to the debate are professors. This doesn't explain their differing views.

The important variable, I suspect, is that Werry is from New Zealand with a medical system controlled, little at all, by the marketplace, while Biederman, et al, are of the U.S., whose health-care generally has been forced into the marketplace and is importantly shaped by market forces. And psychiatry, as no other specialty, has been shaped by market forces and market partners, the pharmaceutical industry in particular. A greater percentage of mental health lives are under managed care than in any other specialty. In his editorial "In Bed Together at the Market: Psychiatry and the Pharmaceutical Industry," psychiatrist Matthew P. Dupont cites the pervasive sponsorship of psychiatry's activities by the pharmaceutical industry and urges "that the profession give up its coquettish claims to psychotherapy and social science and openly declare its identity as an arm of the drug industry."

Herein, I believe, we have the difference between Dr. Werry's "protect the patient" argument and Biederman, et al's "protect the drug" argument. The only way to know for sure is "full disclosure," and "full disclosure" is a full and comprehensive financial statement identifying the source of every dollar of support, bar none, not only for the researcher author, but for his or her department and his or her entire medical school as well. Only then will you know, who other than Harvard and the Massachusetts General Hospital, Dr. Biederman labors and speaks for or who, other than the University of Auckland, Dr. Werry represents. Some are wholly industry supported, getting nothing at all from the university but a Hippocratic cloak.

Dr. Fred A. Baughman, Fr., M.D. has been a neurologist and pediatric neurologist for 35 years, board certified in both. He has discovered and described real diseases. He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Neurology and is a medical advisor to the Citizens Commission on Human Rights, International.

Health PERSONNELS

Gary An MD

Russell E. Feurer, chief executive of Good Shepherd Hospital, has announced the appointment of Gary An, MD as the new Trauma Director of Good Shepherd Hospital. In this position, Dr. An will be responsible for directing and scheduling the trauma team at Good Shepherd Hospital, reviewing the charts of all trauma cases and guaranteeing that the response time for the trauma team meets or exceeds state standards.

Dr. An has been at Good Shepherd since 1994. He is a graduate of the Univ. of Miami Medical School and completed residencies at the Univ. of Illinois and Cook County Hospital. Dr. An is board certified in general and oncologic surgery.

Dr. Jacobs presented a poster entitled "Guidelines for an Effective Treatment of Pre-menstrual Dysphoric Disorder (PMDD)." PMDD deals with the effects of severe pre-menstrual syndrome, one of Dr. Jacob's specialties in his psychiatric practice. His office is located in the Smith Medical Building on Rte. 22 adjacent to Good Shepherd Hospital.

Dr. Jacobs is a graduate of the Univ. of Louvain Medical School, Belgium and completed his residency at the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute. He is a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Assn. Dr. Jacobs is board certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Mohammad H. Bawani, MD

Mohammad H. Bawani, MD, a gastroenterologist on staff at Good Shepherd Hospital, has recently presented a poster presentation at the American College of Gastroenterology's Annual Meeting in Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Bawani played the abstract entitled "Spontaneous Resolution of Common Bile Duct Stricture" in the poster session as part of the Education Affairs Committee presentation. He has also been requested to submit a completed manuscript for consideration in The American Journal of Gastroenterology.

Dr. Bawani is a graduate of Dow Medical College, Pakistan, and completed his residency at the Kansas City Medical Center and The Chicago Medical School.

Leo I. Jacobs MD

Leo I. Jacobs, MD, medical director and chairman of the department of psychiatry at Good Shepherd Hospital, has recently returned from Madrid, Spain where he exhibited a poster presentation at the 10th World Congress of Psychiatry. The Congress meets only once every seven years, and Dr. Jacobs is one of only a few physicians in the world asked to participate in the Congress.

Breath

will eventually make its way to the breath.

Food particles also can be a culprit. Pieces of meat or other foods high in protein can get stuck between teeth and begin to rot, causing an odor.

Dry mouth-Saliva is a natural remedy for bad breath. Mouths are full of bacteria, the main cause of bad breath, which thrive in an oxygen-free environment. Normal amounts of oxygen-rich saliva prevent bacteria from accumulating.

Anything that dries the mouth-old age, medications, stress, breathing through the mouth during exercise, fever-can cause bad breath.

Medical conditions-The problem may not be in the mouth. While most causes of bad breath can be attributed to a dental problem, halitosis signals a medical problem for a small percentage of the population. A fruity smell can indicate diabetes. Certain types of liver disease produce a sweet smell. The most common medical condition causing halitosis is a postnasal drip from a cold or sinus infection.

chronic bronchitis and infections in the respiratory tract also induce bad breath.

Regardless of the cause of dragon breath, regular dental visits are necessary for treatment.

"Once diagnosed, halitosis from bacteria accumulation on the tongue is fairly simple to treat and prevent," explains Dr. Watson-Lowry. "Periodontal disease, on the other hand, is a very serious condition that can lead to tooth loss. Determining the precise cause of breath problems is vital before beginning necessary treatment."

GSH volunteers recognized for service

Farmers

they also need three to four more weeks to mature.

Because the break in weather to plant crops came at the same time, hay needed to be put up, Doolittle had to leave the hay in the field a bit longer than he would have liked which diminished its nutrients.

"That has a trickle down effect," said Doolittle. "The hay has less nutrients so we have already seen less milk production out of our cows. This happened to farmers throughout the Midwest and that is why consumers are paying more for milk in the store, today."

Less hay also means less food supplies for winter for Doolittle's livestock.

"Usually we have excess hay and can sell it to stables and such, but this year, we are just hoping to be able to feed our own without having to buy food," Doolittle said he is already into the winter supply.

One advantage of having livestock for Doolittle is he can combine the corn and soybeans in the field for livestock food for his herd, even if he isn't able to take the crops to market.

"It's been hard, but we are not going to give up," he said emphatically. The Farm Bureau president said "I'm in this for the long-haul."

Wauconda

Wauconda Orchards owner Dick Breeden echoed the phrase of Tom Doolittle, "This is the worst year we've ever seen." The Breeden family has been operating the orchards since 1951.

"We lost 50 percent of the crop," said Breeden. The loss was a result of a hard freeze to early blossoms and the toll of insects.

"The bees have been greatly diminished due to insect problems, which have quadrupled this year," said Breeden. "If the bees don't pollinate the trees, then your crop is greatly reduced."

Bees have been particularly hard hit by a parasite commonly referred to as a bee mite. The mite rides on the back of a bee and can wipe out an entire hive in a matter of days.

"Farmers can dust hives for the mite, but because bees are migratory, it is hard to kill it off."

Southern winds which prevailed over northern Illinois last spring, also brought with them additional insects which aren't natural to the area as well.

"Our quality is very small and the quality of our apples is not nearly what it has been," said Breeden. "We will be done with pick-your-own within 12 days and normally we can offer picking through Columbus Day." All of the apples being sold in the Wauconda Orchards store are being purchased from orchards in southern Illinois.

"We've brought in apples for many years to meet the demand, but this is the first year we haven't been able to sell any of our own crop inside the store."

Breeden says the orchard will make it through the season, primarily because they have become an "entertainment farm."

The orchard, which operates 7 months a year, normally grosses $1 million per year.

"We are trying to make up for our lack of a crop by expanding our entertainment features," Breeden said. "In October, we will offer our haunted hayride, corn maze and pumpkins." The orchards offers live music and a beer and brat tent on weekends as well.

Libertyville

The Titus family farm preceded most of modern day Mundelein, Libertyville and Grayslake. The farm is located on Peterson Road almost parallel with Midlothian Road.

The Tituses have 200 hundred acres, 150 acres planted in soybeans and 50 in vegetables. The vegetables are sold at the family farm stand at the corner of Rte. 83 and Midlothian as well as at farmer's markets in Libertyville, Mundelein and Grayslake.

"This is the hardest year I have ever had," Titus said. He has been farming vegetables for the last 18 years. "What I need is a Nov. 1 frost."

Because of the wet spring, he also planted his crops late and started with the 50 acres of vegetables.

"We weren't able to get a second planting on red beets, carrots or green beans like we usually do,"

he said. "We weren't able to plant our first tomatoes until June 14, usually we plant them on Mother's Day."

His acres of soybeans were put in after the vegetables and need at least three or four more weeks to mature.

"Like I said I'm counting on a November 1st frost," Titus smiled. "If we can make it that long, we'll still have fresh sweet corn to sell."

Everything the Titus' sell is picked the same day so if a frost comes there is little time to salvage any crops.

One of the biggest challenges now for the family is letting consumers know that they are still open and selling fresh produce.

"For some reason, after Labor Day, our business drops off about one-third," Titus said. "People still have to eat but they're not buying the fresh produce from the stand."

Mother Nature will write the final chapter on this growing season, in the next couple of weeks. If Lake County farmers have their prayers answered, it will be a warm, pleasantly wet and long autumn.

NOW AT A STATION NEAR YOU.

Introducing Metra's North Central Service.

Metra's new North Central Service is big news for residents in Lake and northern Cook counties. Initial train service consists of four weekday inbound and outbound trains serving ten communities between Antioch and Chicago's Union Station plus a transfer stop at O'Hare International Airport, Remote Parking Lot F.

The North Central Service is ideal for customers who travel to downtown Chicago during regular business hours. For customers with only morning business, an early afternoon train departure is also available. To ensure service flexibility during midday and evening hours, Pace provides supplemental bus service that links stations along the North Central Service with three other Metra rail lines.

Request your copy of Metra's "North Central Service Rider's Guide," which details station and parking information, train and bus schedules, fares and ticket programs.

To feel positive, complete—think in threes

I can remember my mother talking about the "rule of three" when I was a boy. When two people from the community died within days of each other, she would sigh and wonder who would be the third. When we would have two flat tires on the car in a short time, she was certain there would be another. If the phone rang twice in one morning, mother knew there would be a third caller.

According to my mother events often occur in threes. However, the rule of three goes beyond events. Three is a number that causes us to feel positive and complete.

In spiritual application it is the Father, Son and Holy Spirit and faith, hope and charity. In speaking it is the three main points to leave with your audience. The rule of three also applies to how to make a great speech: "Tell the audience what you're going to tell them, tell them and then tell them what you told them."

You can find examples of the rule of three everywhere.

For instance, The Three Bears, The Three Pigs and The Three Musketeers. You also have the three-ring circus, the three-piece suit and the three-legged stool. Even this column with its words, sentences and paragraphs follows the rule.

A few months ago I began to collect and construct some "threes" for this column. I was struck by the wisdom and logic I found that fit the rule of three. I hope you enjoy, and share this collection with others.

Some powerful threes:

- Three powerful word phrases; I love you, I'll do it, and then some

- Three powerful four-word phrases; I know I can, I will start today, I will help you

- Three things to aspire to; thrift, diligence, optimism
- Three things to shun; ungratefulness, arrogance, cruelty

- Three kinds of lies; lies, damned lies, statistics, (according to Winston Churchill)

- Three factors to completing important tasks quickly; enthusiasm, a good plan, not quite enough time

- Three sides to every story; yours, mine, the truth, (the truth is usually somewhere in the middle).

- Three types of customers; loyal customers, languishing customers, lost customers. Loyal customers are folks whose trust and business you've earned by giving them exceptional value and great service. Languishing customers are customers who have lost their enthusiasm for doing business with you. They only remain because no one has given them a better choice. Lost customers are

Summer's end brings boom to storage business

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

For two decades in the fall, Bob Heaney has been storing boats, trailers and other recreational vehicles for his customers. The season is here to do it again.

Heaney's RV Storage, located in Richmond, just minutes away from Lake Geneva, services a number of boating and camping clients. And it's only about 15 minutes from Fox Lake, explained Heaney.

"Most of my business is from the Chain and the suburbs," said Heaney.

He began the venture on a whim, never knowing it would have become as successful as it has become.

For most businesses, the first year is the hardest. "It went well from the beginning," he said. "The first year was great."

"But just in case the storage didn't work, I was going to stay in the electrical businesses," Heaney, a licensed electrician explained.

In 1976, while working at his electrical skill, his co-worker purchased a 27-foot pontoon boat. With nowhere to store the boat, Heaney volunteered to let him keep it on his property in Richmond. Heaney had a 40-acre farm there which included a house and a few outbuildings. Nothing though was suitable for a vessel the size of the pontoon boat.

Heaney constructed a garage for the boat, and from there he decided to expand.

After going through zoning changes, he had three acres zoned for storage use. Construction of a 60,000 square foot facility was soon made.

It's one of the largest storage facilities under roof in Lake County, he explained.

Heaney thanks his former boss, the owner of Continental Electrical, Leo Witz, for helping to get things started. Witz provided the financing it took to build the storage facility.

"Every year, boats keep getting bigger and bigger," said Heaney, and keeping them "gets very expensive."

Covers can cost between $500 to $1,000 a crack. "What they save by keeping them [the boats] indoors can amount to a lot," Heaney explained.

Because his business is land-based, customers have lower fees than on-water sites, he said.

Heaney's motto holds true. "We store anything on wheels."

While he's been asked to store furniture and other items, Heaney said his business is strictly for RV storage.

He says he's proud there have been no violations at the business, since it's been in operation. Heaney's son, Rob, keeps good watch on the place, as well as a German Shepherd at the premises. There are also new security gates.

Though he has customers that have kept collectable cars in storage for the past 17-years, most of the activity will begin to explode following the first week in October. That's when everyone is putting their summer toys away for the winter.

Future plans are being considered, including the possibility of "in-out storage," he said. That way customers can pick up their boats any weekend they please, and it's not usually for long-term storage.

Waukegan Savings and Loans establishes Internet presence

Blazing the trail into the next generation of banking, Waukegan Savings and Loan SB announced the activation of their Internet site. Waukegan Savings and Loan is the first locally-owned Lake County financial institution to activate a web site. Located at <http://www.waukegansavings.com>. Internet presence is just one of the many ways the historic Waukegan bank has made it easier for customers to transact business with the bank in the past year.

"We are very enthusiastic about the potential of the World Wide Web" according to Theodore (Ted) Stanulis, president of Waukegan Savings and Loan.

"Our Internet presence provides a wealth of information about the bank, like the latest rate information on our products. This is especially helpful for those seeking to relocate in Lake County because they're looking for a new bank and perhaps a mortgage. Nobody knows all the ways you'll be able to conduct business on the Internet in the future. We want to make sure Waukegan Savings and Loan customers can take full advantage of all future opportunities."

In addition to rate information, Waukegan Savings and Loan's web site has a variety of useful "links" to other web sites. Once you visit waukegansavings.com, you can "jump" to the Federal Reserve, the U.S. Census Bureau, the Lake County Chamber of Commerce and other sites you'll likely find interesting if you want information from a bank.

"We want to make a visit to our home page both informative and productive," continued Stanulis. "For example, we're in the process now of linking to various Lake County real estate firms that have a presence on the Internet. If someone from Massachusetts is looking to relocate in Lake County, they can check out local home listings, then get local mortgage information at the same time." In the future, Stanulis foresees a full range of interactive banking possibilities on the web site.

Waukegan Savings and Loan has served the northeastern Illinois area since 1924. Waukegan Savings has two locations: 900 Tenth Street and 1324 Golf Rd.

For more information, contact Ted Stanulis at Waukegan Savings and Loan, at 623-6400.

This Way to Wealth

When variable annuities make sense

TERRANCE R. GAERTNER

Variable annuities have been touted as "the best" investment vehicle for the 1990's, right behind your 401(k) plan. Is that true?

Not always! Like most investments, variable annuities have their advantages and their disadvantages. It is important that potential buyers of variable annuities understand what they are purchasing, what it is costing them and whether they are good candidates for variable annuity.

Anyone who says that a variable annuity is the right investment for you without knowing your particular circumstances is merely trying to sell you a commission product.

It is "buyer-beware," so let's look at the advantages and disadvantages of variable annuities so that you will be in a better position to decide if they might be right for you.

Disadvantages: Yes, there are disadvantages to a variable annuity.

They include:

- higher annual fees (higher by about 1 percent per year when compared to a mutual fund investment)

- liquidity can be an issue as withdrawals are subject to the IRA withdrawal rules.

- there are usually surrender charges to get out of the contract during the early contract years.

- no guaranteed investment return and no guaranteed principal for the annuity contract owner. (The beneficiary does often have a principal guarantee as discussed below).

Given these disadvantages, why are variable annuities still such a popular investment vehicle? There are a number of significant advantages that we can now address.

Advantages:

- all earnings from a variable annuity are tax deferred until withdrawn (like a non-deductible IRA account, except that there is no contribution limit).

Comment: This is a very real advantage only if you are able to let the annuity contract accumulate for a long period of time. I usually recommend that a client not consider a variable annuity if they need the money (or income from the money) in less than 10 years.

The longer the deferral period, the more significant this advantage becomes. It is also more significant if you live in a state with high state income taxes since a variable annuity defers both federal and state income taxes.

- there is usually not any initial sales charges to purchase an annuity contract (surrender charges are discussed above) So 100 percent of your contribution is invested.

- your principal is usually guaranteed for your beneficiaries. This makes a variable annuity potentially a better vehicle to use for higher risk investments.

- like a mutual fund, you have professional money management.

- like a mutual fund, you have investment options within a variable annuity that have the potential of beating inflation.

- there are a number of options when it comes time to start making withdrawals.

- they avoid probate for your estate.

Here are some guidelines for purchasing a variable annuity:

1. Maximize the amount you are contributing to your 401(k) plan before looking at investing into a variable annuity.

2. Make sure that you have other monies to cover your cash liquidity needs so that you can let the annuity accumulate tax-deferred for at least 10 years.

3. Make sure the investment choice you make within the variable annuity makes sense with your total portfolio strategy.

4. Variable annuities, because of their higher annual expenses, generally make poor investment vehicles for "safe" investments like government bonds. They are better suited to investments such as growth oriented stock funds, either domestic or international.

Like mutual funds, there are hundreds of choices when it comes to purchasing a variable annuity. Your financial planner can guide you to the right product once you decide that you are a good candidate for variable annuity.

Editor's note: Terrance R. Gaertner, a certified financial planner and certified public accountant, is president of Chicago Financial Advisors, Inc., Chicago, a financial planning company for individuals and business. Gaertner is a director of the International Assn. of Financial Planning and is one of less than a thousand people admitted to the Registry of Financial Planning Practitioners.

- Three cars I'd like to own someday; a 1964 Pontiac GTO convertible, a 1967 Corvette roadster, a new car without payments.

- Three places I'd like to go where I've never been; Alaska, Hawaii, Australia.

- Three foods I dearly love; Banana pie, pizza, oreos, bacon cheeseburgers, popcorn, salmon patties, meatballs, omelets, ice cream. (OK, it's more than three. I'm not very good at counting calories either).

- Three things I'd be flattered to have written on my tombstone; respectful son, loving husband, and good father.

Griefnotes

How can I prevent difficulties from grief?

Many who confront grief for the first time are surprised at the intensity of their feelings. Grief is most often associated with the death of a loved one but it can also result from divorce, loss of bodily function, moving or from child growing up and leaving home. Because grief is poorly understood, those who have not experienced it personally can be poor helpers. By learning about grief ahead of time we can more capably assist friends in their time of need and can more readily understand the intensity of feelings when death affects our families. Take time to read and inquire about grief and learn ways to assist those in need of support.

PUBLIC NOTICE

FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the Village of Long Grove, Lake County, Illinois AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency
ACTION: Proposed rule.
SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed modified base (1% annual chance) flood elevations shown on your community's preliminary Revised Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). These base flood elevations are the basis for the floodplain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). The proposed base flood elevations modify the base flood elevations shown on your community's presently effective FIRM.

DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the community.

ADDRESSES: Preliminary FIRMs showing the proposed modified base flood elevations and their delineation are available for review at the Village of Long Grove Municipal Building, 3110 Old McHenry Road, Long Grove, Illinois 60047.

Send comments to:

Ms. Lenore Simmons
Long Grove Village President
3110 RFD
Long Grove, Illinois 60047

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Michael K. Buckley, P.E., Chief Hazard Identification Branch
Mitigation Directorate
Federal Emergency Management Agency
Washington, DC 20472
(202) 646-2766

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Emergency Management Agency gives notice of the proposed determinations of modified base flood elevations, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 67.4(e).

These elevations, together with the floodplain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their floodplain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605(b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been delegated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the proposed flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under Section 1363 forms the basis for new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the floodplain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts floodplain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standard, the elevations prescribe how high to build a floodplain and do not prohibit development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement; of itself it has no economic impact.

Proposed base flood elevations along flood sources studied in detail are shown on the Preliminary FIRM. Lessees and owners of real property in the Village of Long Grove, Lake County, Illinois, are encouraged to review these maps and related materials at the address cited above. The flood sources studied in detail are:

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,

I have been employed as a manufacturers sales representative in men's apparel for more than 10 years. My compensation over the last seven years has been on a commission basis and has proven to be very beneficial to me. Recent economic set back through the industry has caused our company to close causing me to seek other employment. I am thinking of changing careers, however, I have always worked in outside sales, so I am not used to being in an internal structured environment, and I'm sure that will take some getting used to. I was hoping you could shed some light on where a die-hard sales person should start.

E.W.—Grayslake

Dear E.W.,

If you believe in your sales capabilities, and it has proven to be successful for you after all these years, why change now? There are manufacturers out there needing the knowledge you hold. A true sales professional, as you know, can sell any product or service he or she believes in. Before you jump ship, see what is out there. Good Luck.

Dear Search,

Can you tell me why more and more companies are hiring people on as temporaries instead of on a permanent basis. It seems to me that all the interviews I have gone on lately are asking for someone who wants to work on a temporary basis for a period of time before they will make a decision.

H.D.—Libertyville

Dear H.D.,

In a recovery time such as we are currently faced with, many companies are doing their part to re-build their own staff from previous cutbacks. Corporations are trying to keep their own costs down by hiring on a temporary basis for special projects, temporary work overload and all around voids, without the added expense of costly corporate insurance's and benefits normally given to full time, permanent employees. This also allows a company to see if there is a good match for a position by trying out potential candidates for permanent spots when ready to add on additional staff. I strongly urge those who are unemployed and faced with a temporary opportunity, to go for it. You never know if you will be asked to stay on permanently. You will gain more experience and money.

Friday night specials now the rule for prep football

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Whether it be the battling the bees in September or the wind chills of November, there is nothing like a well-played Friday night high school football game.

Throughout Lake County, bands play, cheerleaders cheer and concession stand workers are kept hopping as teams strive for the playoffs. There is still plenty of action left, with the entire month of October at hand to determine which teams qualify for post-season play.

"The first three away games the fan support has been great. That is a reflection of support for our program in the community at large," Lake Zurich High athletic director Bob Miller said.

The Bears' newly remodeled field will be used for the first time Sept. 27 when the Crystal Lake South Gators visit for a 7:30 p.m. clash.

"The parents not only give moral support, but financial support as well for the remodeling of the field as well," Miller said.

The Quarterback Club made the donation. The Bear Boosters for many sports and the Sixth Man Club are the booster organizations there.

At Mundelein, interest is heavy in Stadium Club seats sold for $25 each.

"The crowds have been great. We have had larger crowds for the Friday night games than Saturday afternoons," Mundelein athletic director Doug Duval said.

The cost was shared by the Gridiron Club, boosters and the school at $21,000 apiece. The project has been paid for - the Gridiron Club paying its share early.

Mundelein's head coach, John Ahlgrim, said Friday nights are definitely a different atmosphere.

At Antioch, the Sequoits are thrilled to get to play night football. They play three clashes at night this year - including under the new lights at Zion-Benton. ACHS and Libertyville do not have lights.

Some don't miss Friday night specials, all 7:30 p.m. starts:

Oct. 4: Warren at Zion-Benton.

Oct. 11: Lake Forest at Stevenson.

Oct. 18: Grayslake at Marian Central in Woodstock.

Oct. 25: Round Lake at Grayslake.

So schedule those baysitters, bring the blankets and enjoy.

Wauconda press box ready, example of working together

The community spirit that is Wauconda was celebrated before the St. Edward and the Bulldogs clash on the gridiron.

Officials were hoping there won't be any superstitious types on hand for the dedication of a new press box for the football field. The ceremony was held before the Wauconda-St. Edward football game. "It is a great place to watch a game indoors and with plenty of room," Don Giebel, football coach, said.

Area contractors, brick layers, and window companies donated materials and labor to put the press box up this summer.

Athletic director Jim LePage said the various press boxes were looked at, including the multi-decked Libertyville High facility.

"We have just over 120 certificates for people who gave financially and their time in any area of construction - all different facets," LePage said.

The effort began by the WHS boosters two years ago. The school also contributed financially, as part of the building will be used for storage.

The boosters contributed $30,000 in time and labor, the school $5,000.

"The goal is to build school and community partnerships," LePage said.

Another press box with a new look is Antioch, due to safety concerns.

Wauconda's press box ceremony was followed by a 16-13 win over St. Edward.

There are many other examples of Booster Club participation throughout the county.

Have a Winning Season!

Speedy Patriots establish themselves as NSC favorites

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

As if the Stevenson football machine did not have enough weapons, one can add team speed to the resume.

Steve Clancy raced for a total of 110 yards and then took most of the second half off as the Patriots crushed Warren 41-6.

Although Lake Forest and Libertyville, who were both represented in the stands, may have something to say, the speedy and talented Patriots appear destined for another North Suburban Conference title.

"The offensive line blew their guys away and Kyle (Brandt, no slower himself) threw a great block on their linebacker and the whole was wide open," Clancy said.

Clancy was describing a 58-yard run on the first play from scrimmage. Clancy went into the Warren end zone untouched, accounting for the first six of 40 points.

"Our team speed is real good. And with Curt (Zervic) throwing like he is, the defenses do not know what is coming at them," Clancy said.

Each spring, Clancy uses his speed to chase down routine and not-so routine flyballs in the Stevenson outfield. He even hit an occasional dinger last year.

While Warren High's banged up squad and Antioch before it did not pose any threat to SHS, Clancy had reason to have a good game against Warren.

"I was motivated this week because I missed the game before because of an injury," he said.

The team speed of Stevenson is just one aspect which impresses opposing coaches.

"They are as quick a Stevenson team as I have seen. Lake Forest has some fast guys, but these Stevenson guys are just as fast," Warren coach Reggie Hughes said.

Clancy outran the Warren defense from 31 yards out for his second score, less than two and one-half minutes after his first.

Zervic, the junior signal caller growing in confidence as each week passes, threw to junior Steven Strube for 36 yards over the middle and a wide open score for a 21-0 lead less than four minutes into the game.

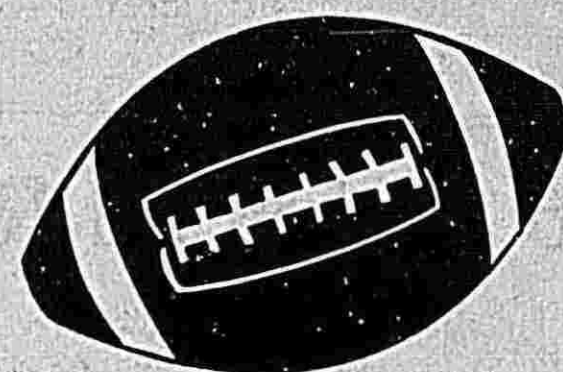

Kyle Brandt's 22-yard ramble accounted for TD No. 3 at the start of the second period and Adam Butler, who provides the tough gains when needed, scored on a run up the middle. Brandt showed Clancy does not have the corner on the market on quickness as he rambled for 55 yards, setting up the score.

While Stevenson coach Bill Mitz does not like to compare skills of present and past teams, let's let opposition do that.

"They may be better on defense," Hughes, whose Blue Devils have lost to contenders Lake Forest, Libertyville and Stevenson, said.

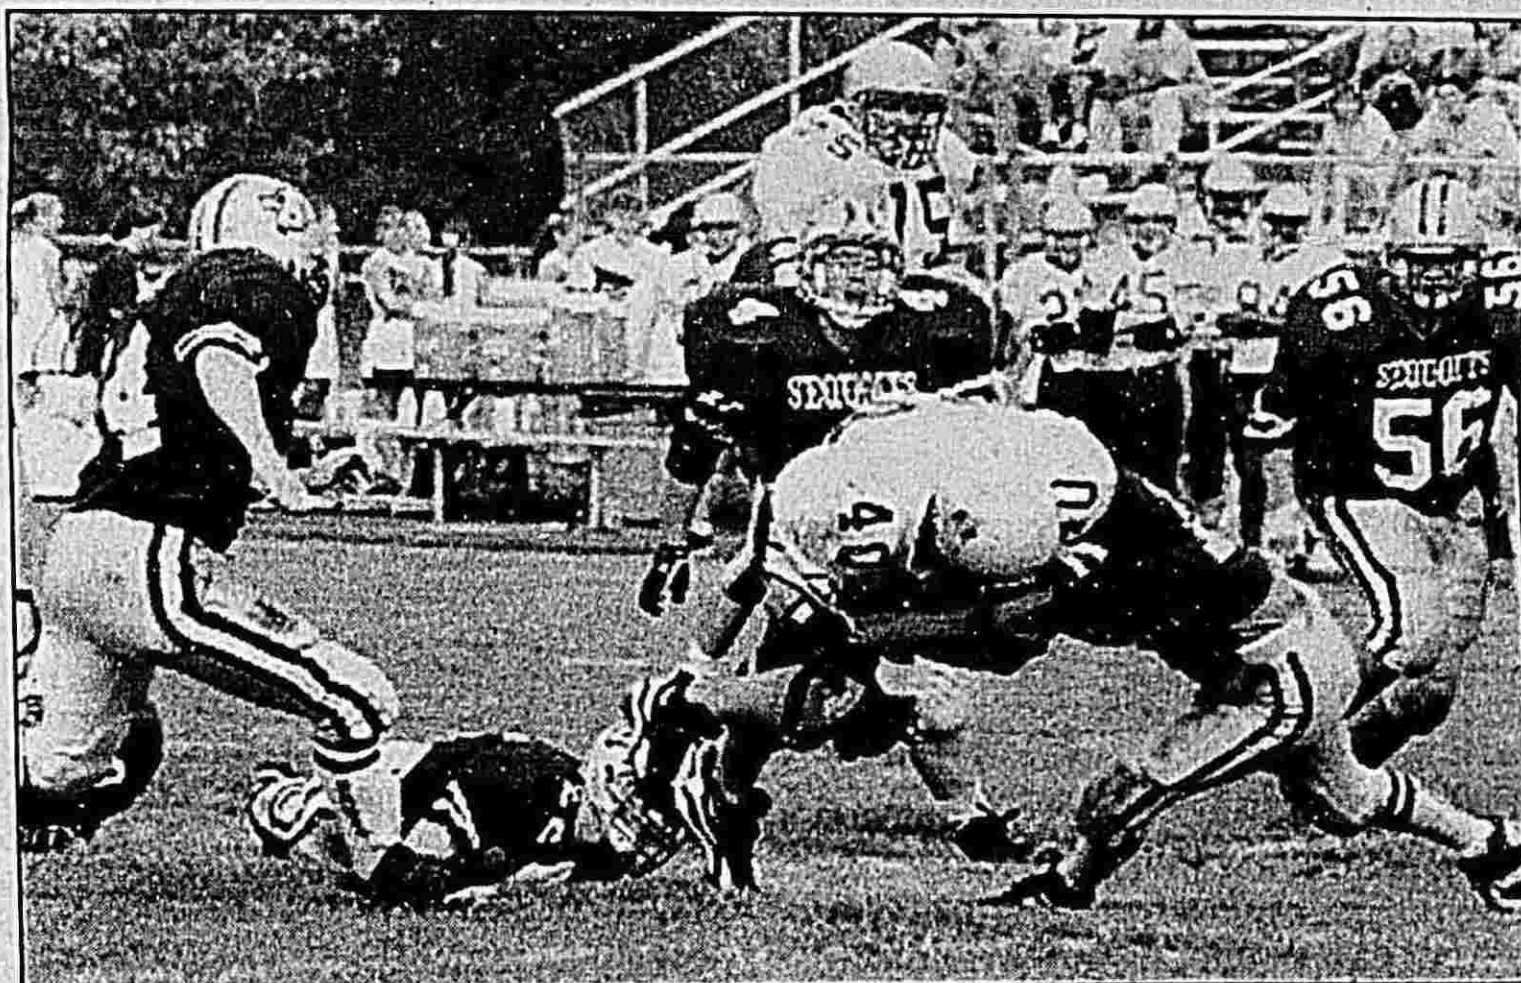

So the lesson to be learned on this crisp Thursday night when summer's end seemed near: when there is a solid football team, chances are a speedy wide receiver and-or running back is there making the big plays in the open field.

Pilots laud convenience of new train

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

For some of the nearly 200 pilots who live in Lake County, the new Metra line is a beautiful thing.

Bill Helbig of Ingleside said the North Central Service Line gives him another transportation option which saves him time. He said the time saved is significant compared with the Round Lake train.

"It saves me 15 minutes than if I leave from Round Lake," Helbig said.

Helbig, an American Airlines pilot, uses the Lake Villa train. He mentioned he can get to O'Hare on the other line but it takes longer because he has to transfer onto an el downtown to get to the airport.

He said the trip takes about an hour and ten minutes. The trains have been on time so far.

"The Round Lake train usually runs about 10 minutes late," Helbig said.

Mark Lishko of Ingleside, a first officer with American Airlines, said car problems forced him to use the train and he hasn't stopped.

"I had car problems and had to take the train. Now I won't take a car because it's too expensive," Lishko said.

Lishko estimated, based on a $7.65 ticket both ways from Lake Villa, it costs him 10 cents a mile to take the train and at $12 a ticket at Fox Lake, it costs 15 cents a mile.

"You can't take your car at 15 cents a mile," Lishko said.

He added the price of the train is far less than paying for a full day's parking at O'Hare, even at the remote parking lot.

On the down side, the train is available during the weekdays during early morning and day hours.

"The options are limited," Helbig stressed.

On some occasions, Helbig can get there in the weekday by train but must be picked up on the weekend, or he has to find another way to the train and then can take the train back during the week.

Helbig also was critical of O'Hare transfer site. He can't believe there is nothing to protect people from the elements.

"There is nothing out there. You are out in the open," he said.

Helbig said the buses can be late to arrive and there are no phones at the transfer site.

Lishko said he still takes the Fox Lake train mostly because of the weekend hours. He connects downtown to an el which takes him to the airport.

Martini encourages input at boat safety hearing

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch County Board Member Judi Martini has been working on boat safety changes and feels public input is crucial on this issue.

The State Senate will hold a special hearing Sept. 24, 10 a.m., at Antioch Village Hall to discuss the issue as it relates to Senate bill 1333. They are in response to 1995 recommendations from the Lake and McHenry county boards.

"Some might think that this water safety reform bill was written in response to the numerous string of boating accidents this year. The reality is that I've worked on this for years," Martini said.

Martini, also a Waterway Agency Advisory Board member, felt there were changes needed that couldn't be addressed by the agency.

Martini presented her concerns to Audrey Nixon, chair of the Law and Judicial Committee, and was directed to form an ad hoc committee. She also worked with Donna Schaeffer on the McHenry County Board on boat safety. Senate Bill 1333, the focus of the meeting, includes changes such as: children under the age of 13 actually wear their life preservers; boaters refusing to take muffler sound levels tests commit a class A misdemeanor; prohibits vessels jumping of wakes within 150 feet of another boat; when pulling a water skier, requires three seats for a spotter, driver and the skier; and if convicted of operation under the influence and the driver has a previous DUI on a car or snowmobile, the person is convicted of a class 4 felony; people sit in safe location while riding in a boat; that watercraft renters receive orientation before using it; renters must be at least 16 years of age; and reckless operation of a vessel which results in death is reckless homicide, the same as a motor vehicle.

To register or give comment at the hearing, call 312-814-2050 and ask for Peg Mosgers.

The hearing will include comments from residents, public officials and members of the boating industry. The comment will be taken to possibly modify the bill before it is presented to the Senate.

Assessments reflect higher house sales

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch Township assessments are in and property values again are on the rise.

Cliff Houghton, township assessor, said most homeowners will see an average increase of 4.8 percent in their property value. He added lakefront property sells for a premium price.

"Most of the village property went up," Houghton said.

Houghton mentioned many house sales are going in the $130,000 to $150,000 range.

"We had quite a few sales at Heron Harbor," Houghton said.

Houghton noted the assessed value of the township is up 7 percent. He said the market value of new township property is at about $25 million.

He added some areas actually had decreases in assessed valuation, but they were far outweighed by those with increases.

For residents who object to their assessments they can pick up a form at the township office.

That form must be filled out and sent back to the Lake County Clerk's office.

The assessment will be published Sept. 16. Residents have until Oct. 16 to file an objection with the board of review.

The property owner must provide proof that the assessment is too high. That can be obtained through a home appraisal.

Another approach is to use the selling price of the home if it's been on the market for 4-6 months.

The board of review may extend the deadline, but not for a long time period, according to Houghton.

Houghton reminds residents assessed valuation is 1/3 the market value of the property. He will field questions regarding property value but emphasizes he sets the property value and has nothing to do with tax rates.

The value of commercial property is increasing at a slower rate, according to Houghton.

Fields stops meeting, avoids salary issue

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

A review of township salaries sparked a confrontation between a trustee and township supervisor.

Trustee Claudette Skvarce angered Township Supervisor Jim Fields when she pressed for the board to discuss a review of salaries. Fields refused to discuss the review at this meeting and adjourned the meeting after the two engaged in a verbal exchange.

"What are you afraid of?" Skvarce asked Fields. "Is it that you're the fourth highest paid supervisor in Lake County?"

Skvarce demanded she be allowed to present her findings to the board. She motioned to have her report heard at the meeting.

"I won't recognize it," Fields said. "I don't have to acknowledge the motion."

Skvarce asked Trustee Tim Osmond, the only other board member present, to second the motion.

"I don't have the power to recognize it," Osmond said.

Fields said he would discuss the issue at the next township meeting. "I want to know what is in these papers."

Skvarce said residents should be informed about the salaries of public officials as they relate to other townships.

"I would like this out in the open so the people can hear this," Skvarce said.

She passed out copies of a salary review of all 18 townships, with comparisons of assessors, highway commissioners, supervisors and trustees and the amount of services provided. The information was obtained from the Lake County Township Association, Lake Villa Township and the Waukegan Township assessor.

Skvarce asked Fields when was the last time the township had a salary review before this year. Fields could not answer her.

"We need to look at the salaries of all elected officials to justify what we are paid compared with other townships in Lake County," Skvarce said.

Skvarce pointed out Fields makes $51,070 a year and had only one case for general assistance last year.

Fall cleanup next weekend

A cleanup of large items not normally permitted in the trash is slated for Sept. 28. For more information on what permitted, call the village 395-1000. All items must be placed on the curb by 8 a.m.

Historical meeting planned

The Lakes Region Historical Society will hold its first fall meeting Thursday, Sept. 26, 7:30 p.m. at the museum, 812 Main St. Antioch. After a brief business meeting, Judy Robinson, an accomplished dulcimer musician, will discuss and entertain with music written for the instrument. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served. For additional information contact Nancy Binder at 395-1453.

Old magazines wanted

Antioch Upper Grade School Learning Center will gladly take old magazines cluttering up your home. The magazines will be used for various projects which require cut-out pictures. Pictures of people, animals, places and things will be appreciated.

Craft show nears

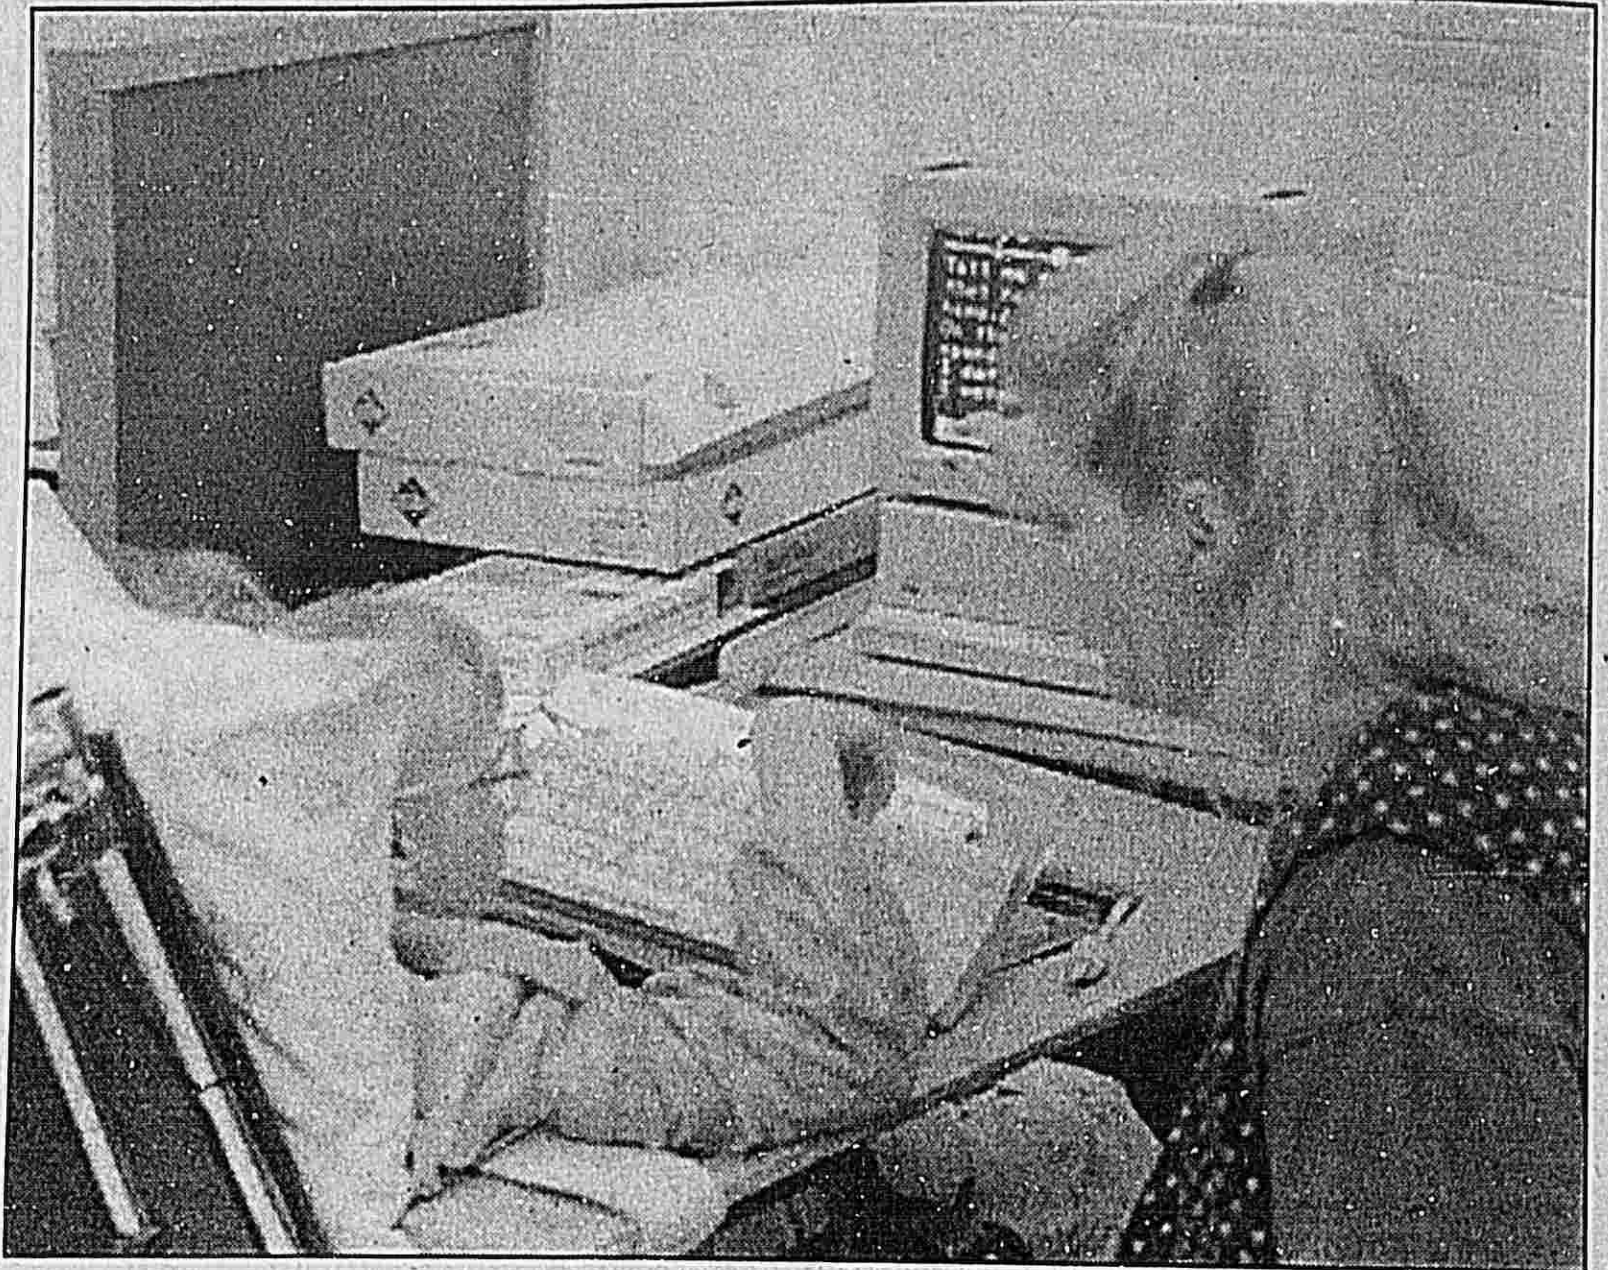

Antioch Community High School Student Assistance Program (SAP) presents its fifth annual Peddler's Alley Craft Show Saturday, Oct. 5 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. at the school. More than 40 crafters will be present. Food will be served along with a bake sale and raffle to benefit the various programs within the SAP.

AUGS important dates

Antioch Upper Grade School dates to remember include the AUGS Back to School Night slated for 7 p.m. on Sept. 26. The school picture day is Oct. 11. The PTO is sponsoring a bake sale that day. The organization is looking for help in providing the desserts. They will accept baked goods or supermarket products. Please bring them the day of the event during school or before the event.

After School Club at Dist. 41

After School Club, a private organization provides a program for students of working parents. Before school, for Hooper students only, is from 6 a.m. until the school day opens. After school care, at Hooper and Pleviak, begins at dismissal and ends at 6 p.m.. Care is also provided for kindergarten students. Call the After School Club Director Pam Porter at 356-5822 for more information.

Emmons includes all kids

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

Emmons School students and physically challenged children are both learning from each other.

The school is incorporating physically challenged and behaviorally challenged students into all classrooms—including physical education.

“You can see them playing soccer and they hit the ball a little softer to the handicapped kids,” said Superintendent Matt Tabar.

“We have three fifth-graders who spent their lunch hours planning how to get a handicapped third-grader involved in their football game,” said Principal Cynthia Van Rush.

Approximately 12 students are bused to Emmons from throughout Lake County by the Special Education District of Lake County.

“It has really done a lot for our kids developing empathy and compassion,” Tabar said.

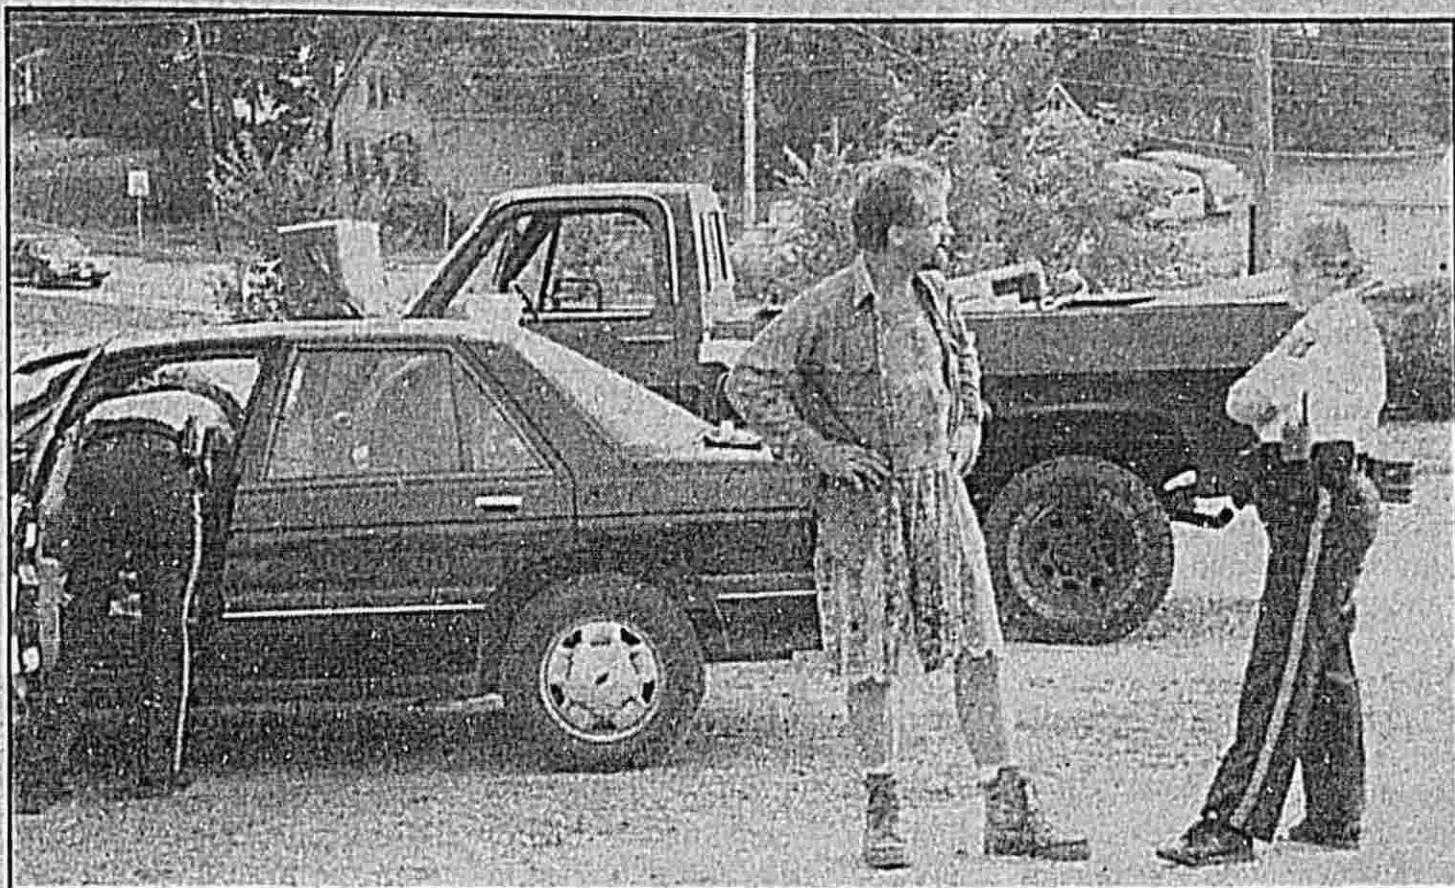

Many of the students have befriended their physically challenged counterparts.

“These children are so friendly, the others kids are drawn to them,” Tabar said. “They have really hit it off well.”

The SEDOL children also went on field trips last year such as one to the Lake Forest Symphony and to a Lake County Forest Preserve. They joined in a space simulation and were inside the simulated space craft.

The SEDOL students write in a journal every day. They work in the computer lab and eat lunch with other students.

To help make this program work, staff and students receive training and information before they see the SEDOL students. A portion of the training is having students simulate being physically handicapped so they can have a better understanding of what it is like.

Arrested for DUI

Oscar Reyes, 53, of Chicago, on Sept. 14, was arrested for driving under the influence. He was stopped for not stopping for a traffic signal. He failed field sobriety tests and refused a breath test.

Barbara Lange, 39, Antioch, on Sept. 12, was arrested for driving under the influence. She failed field sobriety tests and refused a breath test.

Sherry Plechutt, Antioch, on Sept. 12, was arrested for driving under the influence. She failed field sobriety tests and refused a breath test.

Edward Bigham, 33, Salem, on Sept. 15, was arrested for driving under the influence. He had a blood alcohol reading of .31.

Arrested for driving offenses

Todd Baker, 41, 287 Oakridge, Antioch, on Sept. 12, was arrested for driving with a revoked license. The officer recognized him, knew he had a revoked license and stopped him.

William Napierkowski, 35, Antioch, on Sept. 11, was arrested for driving with a revoked license. The officer knew he had a revoked license and stopped him.

Resident dies of rare disease

Terri Jelinek, 26, of Lake Villa, an employee of Phoenix Cleaning Service, a company Allendale contracts for cleaning, died from meningococcal meningitis.

Jelinek's last day of work was Sept. 11. She died on Sept. 13. Her duties were limited to cleaning the West Virginia building during the hours of 5-8 a.m.

"On behalf of the Allendale Community, I would like to express our deepest sympathy to the children of Ms. Jelinek," said Kathryn Collins, Allendale president.

"While we have alerted our staff, we believe that no one at Allendale is at risk," said Evelyn Sikora, Allendale's health services manager. "This disease can only spread through direct saliva contact, and Ms. Jelinek did not have any contact with staff or students during her work shift. Our administrative team responded immediately once informed of Ms. Jelinek's illness and are taking all the necessary measures to ensure the well-being of our children."

Meningococcal meningitis is a severe bacterial infection of the bloodstream and meninges (a thin lining covering the brain and spinal cord.) It is a relatively rare disease and usually occurs as a single isolated incident. The germ is spread through direct contact with nose and throat secretions.

An infected person can transmit the disease by coughing or sneezing directly into the face of others, kissing a person on the mouth or sharing a glass or cup. Although most people exposed to the meningitis germ do not become seriously ill, some may develop fever, headache, vomiting, stiff neck and a rash. The symptoms appear two to 10 days after exposure, but usually within five days. Only people who have been in direct contact need to be considered for preventative treatment.

Jelinek was born in Waukegan in 1970 and was a member of the Round Lake Community Church.

She is survived by a son, Michael, and a daughter, Nicole; her mother, Patricia Jelinek, her father, Raymond. Also surviving are her brothers and sisters, Sandra Ross, Raymond Jelinek Jr. and Trisha Alvitara.

Crimestoppers tries to solve motorcycle theft

Crimestoppers and the Lake County Auto Theft Task Force are seeking information regarding the theft of a motorcycle.

The theft took place on Sunday, Sept. 1. The motorcycle was a Harley Davidson, purple and white in color, with Illinois license plate number 722 487, having a blue dot taillight and a high back bar with a gold eagle. The motorcycle was stolen from a tavern on Route 173 in Antioch.

Those having any information about this crime, or any felony crime or felony fugitive, should contact Crimestoppers at 662-2222.

Those whose information leads to an arrest are eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000.

Remember, Crimestoppers wants your information—not your name.

BURNING FEET

The expression "burning feet" describes a specific symptom, but there are many possible causes.

Sensations of burning, tingling and numbness may develop slowly over a period of weeks or months. The soles are affected first, but the burning feeling often spreads to the back of the foot.

For any two people who experience burning feet, the underlying causes may be widely different. The possibilities include nerve disorders or injuries, circulation problems, diabetes, hypothyroidism, and pernicious anemia.

That is why, to determine the cause, the podiatrist not only conducts an examination but also may review a family's medical history and employ laboratory tests and X-rays.

A persistent burning feeling on the bottoms of the feet should not be ignored.

Fundraiser planned for family of accident victims

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

A fund-raiser will be held for the girl whose mother and brother were electrocuted a month ago.

The 9-year-old girl now lives with her father in Round Lake. The father, Ronald Jackson Sr. is trying to raise money to offset the cost of burial, counseling for his girl and for clothing.

The fund-raiser is at Mayor Hall, 5660 Grand Avenue in Chicago, Oct. 2, from 7-11 p.m.

"She needs counseling to help her with everything she has been through," said her Aunt Kathy Liss.

Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the door. There is a cash bar. A dinner is included with the admission price.

Raffles will give people a chance to win prizes will benefit the fund.

Jackson paid for the burial of both his former wife, Gail Luna and Ronald Jackson, Jr., 10.

The two were electrocuted on Aug. 7. Luna went to grasp a chain which was tied next to an electrical wire and she was shocked. Jackson Jr. suffered a similar fate when he tried to help his mother.

For more information, call Liss at 312-622-2441 or Albert Zaucha at 312-237-8089.

Time for the Library's Annual Book Sale

The Antioch Library Friends will once again be hosting their Annual Book Sale on Friday, Sept. 27, and Saturday, Sept. 28. The sale will be held at the Antioch Library from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. If you have any donations for the book sale, there will be folks at the library all day to accept your treasures on Thursday, Sept. 26. Books in good condition are greatly appreciated. Also volunteers are needed to help work during the sale itself and extra hands are always needed to pack up the leftovers. You don't have to be a member of the Friends group to help out and the won't persistently try to recruit you or laden you with information pamphlets or membership forms. There is just a need for some help and they were hoping some of you townsfolk with a few free minutes might be of some assistance. Now I don't think you will be entitled to any employee discounts, but you certainly will have the privilege of meeting some very interesting people. So if you can help out, even if its for a short period of time, call Gail at 395-6588. And don't forget to mark you calendars for the sale dates on Sept. 27 and 28.

Recognition time

A glowing tribute was written about Antioch's Jill Ozga, RN. Jill is a native of Antioch, having graduated from Antioch High School in 1989 and then moving on to graduate with a BS in Nursing from Menomite in Bloomington in 1994. She is the daughter of Bill and Sally Ozga who reside here in our lovely suburb and who provided me with a very flattering article written on behalf and in honor of Hill. The tribute was composed by one of Jill's co-workers and published in the Champaign/Urbana News Gazette and a brochure featuring Carle Hospital. It talked about the intuitive ability that many nurses never develop but in which Jill has an abundance. Jim Roberts, the author, talked of her excellent skills, her extraordinary heart, and her exemplary nursing capabilities. He went so far as to say if we were to look for a guiding light in nursing, look towards Jill as an example that will lead the way. Jill is the kind of nurse we all wish for during hospital stay, full of laughter, compassion, patience's and always available to give 110 percent of herself. Although her day to day experiences don't always turn out for the best, she has the ability to grasp a no win situation and offer a sensible, compassionate solution which benefits all parties involved. Our hats go off to you Jill and your endeavors to brighten the lives of people who don't always necessary see any brightness in their corner of the world.

A special princess

Eleanor Roman has reason to be so proud of her 8 year old granddaughter, Kristene Orzech of Cary. Young Kristene competed in the Miss Illinois Princess pageant and won the prestigious title of Miss Illinois Princess. Her victory gives her the opportunity to travel to Orlando, Florida in November to compete for the Miss America Princess title. Kristene has been kept very busy fulfilling her duties that came along with her title but from what we understand she loves every minute of it. Grandmother Roman is so very proud of her granddaughter and wants to wish you Good Luck in Orlando, Kristene. And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"...don't forget to call 395-6364.

75 Years Strong!

Antioch to soon enter the 'Green Zone'

If you shopped or dined at an establishment in Highland Park, Libertyville, or Grayslake recently, chances are that you have been in Lake County's Green Zone.

The Green Zone is the slogan for the pilot commercial recycling program created by the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County (SWALCO). Three agency-sponsored Green Zone Commercial Recycling Pilot Projects have been implemented since March, 1996. The first program began in Highland Park on March 1, followed by programs in Grayslake and Libertyville. These pilot projects are models for public and private cooperation in solid waste programming.

The Agency Board of Directors recently approved project applications for the villages of Antioch, Gurnee, and Lake Zurich. A total of 245 businesses were identified to participate in these projects.

In the Green Zone, businesses have the opportunity to participate in recycling at no cost. SWALCO provides funding for internal collection bins and covers the cost of recyclable collection for one year. The communities pledged financial support second year collection costs.

Green Zone participants are making a dent in the flow of garbage that used to leave their businesses. In Highland Park, 485 participating businesses have diverted 182 tons of material since the program's inception. Sixty downtown businesses in Grayslake diverted 42 tons of material from the waste stream since the end of April and the 80 participating locations in Libertyville have diverted 10 tons of waste since June. Approximately 93 percent of the material collected is fiber, while the remaining material is a mixture of glass, cans and plastic.

Businesses in all three communities are beginning to reassess their garbage disposal needs. Through the Green Zone program, waste volume reductions as high as 50 percent have been achieved. Some small businesses have indicated that this program has almost eliminated the need for refuse service. These reports confirm that much of the commercial waste stream is truly recoverable.

German Americans sponsor Oktoberfest

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

It's that time again for some good old-fashioned German food and fun at Oktoberfest.

The German American Club of Antioch is sponsoring its version of this fall Bavarian tradition. The fun begins at 7 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 28 at the Antioch VFW.

"We have a lot of people who get together just to have fun," said Karl Pokorny of the club.

Oktoberfest was started with the marriage of a Bavarian princess. The king held a big party and German's have been celebrating every fall since then.

Pokorny expects about 550 people to come. Dignitaries invited include Congressman Phil Crane, State Sen. Adeline Geokaris, State Majority Leader Robert Churchill.

There will be plenty of food, entertainment and beer.

Entertainment is headed by the German Band "Phoenix." Pokorny said they are one of the finest bands in the area.

The Edelweiss Dancers from Chicago will perform a series of traditional ethnic favorites.

Tempt your tummy with sauerkraut, German potato salad and wurst. And, of course, beer will be available.

Cash and prize raffles are also planned. Prizes include an $1,800 grandfather clock donated by Chicago Clock, discounts on plane tickets from TWA, and dinner for two at the Jensen House and the Wunderbar.

"We welcome everyone to come," Pokorny said.

Cost is $7 at the door and $6 in advance. Tickets can be purchased at Wunderbar, Hoffmann's Barber Shop and by members of the club.

For more information call Pokorny at 587-5707.

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch officials are fired up about this year's Halloween Howl.

Things are going so well they can hardly contain their enthusiasm. The activities will be on a grander scale and promise to be more fun for families.

"We've upgraded, updated it," said Claude LeMere, community development director. "Our two scariest areas, the 'Mummy's Tomb' and the 'Tunnel of Terror' are much scarier."

The howl will include two children's areas called the "Happy Ghost" and "Happy Graveyard." There will be plenty of children's games. An abundance of prizes will be given away.

Also included this year will be the "Tunnel of Snakes" and the Tunnel of Rats."

All of these events are free. They take place on Friday, Oct. 25 and Saturday, Oct. 26.

"We wanted to create something for the whole family for residents and their guests," LeMere said.

Other fun activities include Dracula's Cave. The cave will feature live theater provided by the PM & L Theater.

A recording on Main Street will help direct people to the various activities.

AMANDA MILLER
Correspondent

Crowded halls, passing periods, first day nerves, and new schedules. High school is an unforgettable time and for the parents of the students at ACHS, this time is even harder to forget.

Every year, ACHS holds a 'Back to School Night' program. For two hours, parents relive high school life again. Parents receive their child's schedule and travel from class to class. They attend their child's class for five minutes and then are dismissed to the next period.

"It's ('Back to School Night') very informative and the introductions to the faculty were nice this year," explained parent and four-year attendee of 'Back to School Night,' Joyce Laudenslager.

'Back to School Night' begins with a meeting at the North Gym in which the parents are introduced to the faculty and administration of ACHS. The adults are given a few helpful hints that will hopefully make their quest to find their child's classes easier. The first bell rings and the parents are on their own. Of course, the major difference between 'Back to School Night' and real high school is that there are National Honor Society members and student council representatives to help the lost parents along the way.

In each class the parents come face to face with their child's teacher.

"It's really nice to be able to put a teacher's name with a face so you know who your child is talking about when they complain about school," stated Joy Edge, ACHS social studies teacher, jokingly.

The teacher then gives the parents an idea of what the class is about and what the students are doing currently in class.

"The teachers talked about curriculum and their way of grading for each class," said Laudenslager.

Sometimes this five-minute talk gives the parents more information than the student would like them to know.

"The class does have a chapter test tomorrow," explained Larry Kamin, ACHS math teacher, "So they (the students) should be home studying."

'Back to School Night' is truly a unique experience because parents get to go through a normal school day just as their child would, climbing in and out of desks and listening to teachers lecture.

"It's really interesting to see that parents tend to sit in the same general place their kid does during class," said Edge.

For Antioch Community High School, 'Back to School Night' is truly successful in getting parents involved with their child's academic life and the teachers who help educate their student on a day-to-day basis.

Extension sells Entertainment discount books

The Lake County Cooperative Extension Service is selling Entertainment '97 discount savings books.

Entertainment '97, Chicago's leading discount dining and leisure discount book, is now being sold by the Extension Service for $35. Each book contains a Fine Dining section with distinctive membership card, plus two-for-one and 50 percent off coupons for family dining, fast food, movies, theatre and sporting events, shopping, services and travel. Those using a MasterCard or VISA will get an additional 25 percent off the bill.

Jim Betustak, extension unit leader, said that the proceeds from the sale of Entertainment '97 books will support the over 8,700 youth enrolled in the 4-H program. Those having a son or daughter attending the University of Illinois, a Central Illinois edition for only $25 is available.

To purchase a book, visit the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service at 100 South U.S. Highway 45 in Grayslake, or call 223-8627.

Go back in time with Pioneer Days

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

This weekend get ready to go back to an Illinois where prairies were common.

Go back to the rugged days of the late 1800s when people went west in "Pioneer Days On The Prairie," Saturday, Sept. 21 from 10 a.m.-9 p.m. The day is filled with music, performers, games, activities and much more. "My goal is to have a family event, something that is free and will be fun for everyone," said Cynthia Hall, community relations director.

Hall said she felt the "Symphony on the Prairie" was a limited project that could be expanded. She came upon the prairie theme as it fit with folk music.

"We've expanded the presentation and it keeps growing," Hall said.

Many storytellers will be on hand to discuss various aspects of our heritage. Learn sign language from Mato Luta Win Potanka. This Oglala Sioux lecturer from South Dakota will paint faces, teach children how to make Indian shields, tell stories and show Indian toys and games.

Pioneer storyteller Sam Genitili will tell tales of American girls. Hear stories and song of this bygone era.

Col. Bob Blanchard recreated the role of Daniel Boone; he tells of his adventures and accomplishments.

Betsy Gurlacz will present a slide presentation featuring the life and times of Laura Ingalls Wilder, which was showcased on TV as "Little House on the Prairie."

Musical entertainment will abound. Countryside Harmony will perform from 1-2 p.m. on the library prairie. Other performers include Lee Murdock, Mark Dvorak and Jim Kanas.

Murdock will sing folks songs emanating from the Great Lakes Region. Mark Dvorak offers a mix of traditional and contemporary folk songs accompanying himself on a five-string banjo, guitar and other simple instruments. Kanas passes out instruments to the audience to help him perform his special brand of folk music.

Other activities include a display featuring the life of a pioneer woman, a farm wife, a pioneer teacher, and hear tales of Davy Crockett.

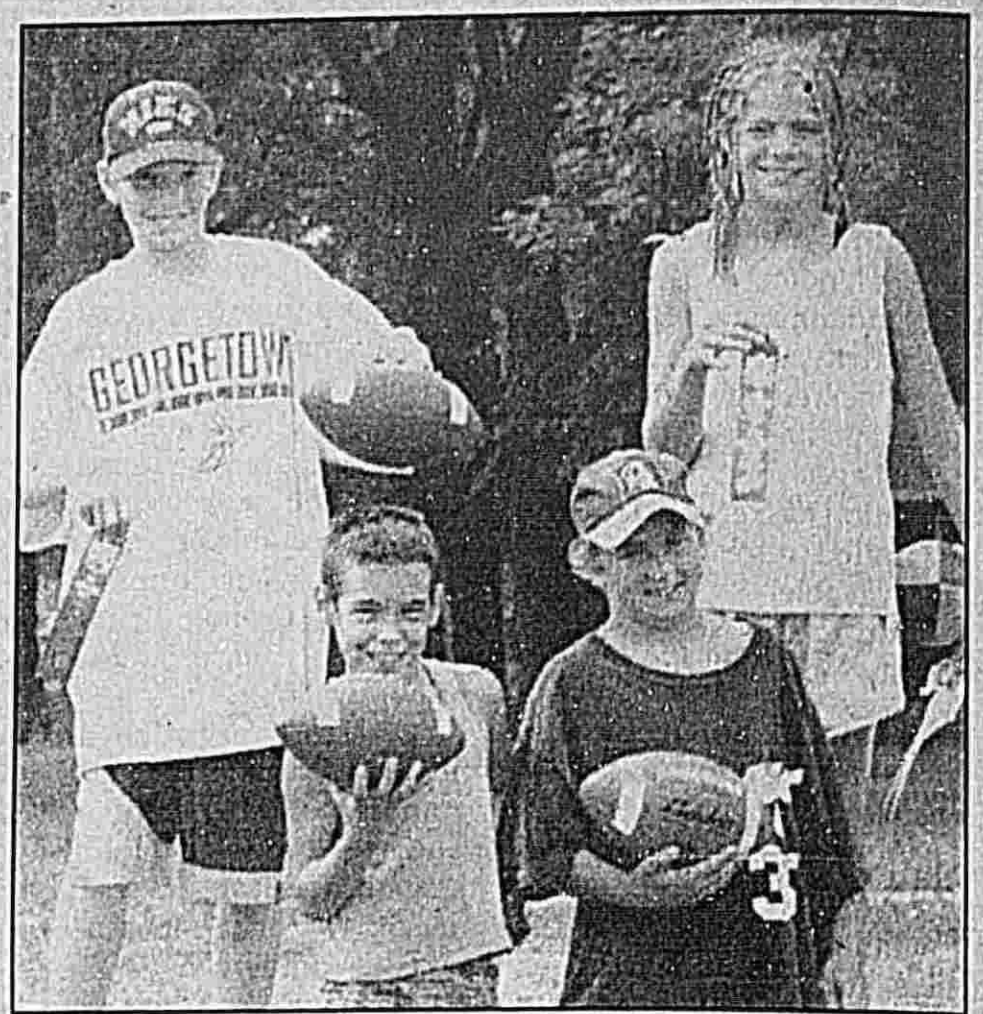

A celebrity auction includes autographed items from Elizabeth Taylor, Charlton Heston, Bill Cosby and hockey legend Gordie Howe.

Also available will be stage coach rides through the library prairie area.

There will be booths from area businesses and organizations. Games will be provided by New Generations Child Care, Christian Life Fellowship, Midway Village, Girl Scouts, a Prairie Museum from the Round Lake Area Park District, Antique Show & Tell, from Anamosa Antiques, and crafts from Lake Villa District Youth Advisory Board.

The Friends of the Library will hold their used book sale to coincide with the event. All hard cover books will be 50 cents each and paperbacks will be 25 cents each.

The library is located at the intersection of Deep Lake Road and Rte. 132. For more information call Hall at 356-7711.

Football is in the air

Hastings Lake YMCA held a Punt, Pass & Kick competition. Winners were Steve Barna, 8 and 9 year olds; Christopher Burton, 10 and 11 year olds; Ryan White, 12 and 13 year olds; and Holly Lester, 12 and 13 year olds. The winners advanced to the sectional competition in Buffalo Grove, Sept. 25. Hastings Lake is offering a Fall Football program in partnership with the NFL and Nike. For more information call the YMCA at 356-4000.

CHURCHILL

Robert W. Churchill is a uniquely effective State Representative. He works hard to stay in touch with his constituents and to best represent their interests in Springfield. As Majority Leader of the Illinois House of Representatives, and chairman of the Rules Committee, Bob has played a major role in passing legislation on tax reform, welfare reform, Chicago School reform, Ethics and government downsizing.

Most importantly, Bob gets results!
Let's make sure we keep him on the job.

Chamber honors Geo-Karis

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce honored State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis for her consistent support of the community over the past two years. Geo-Karis received a 100 percent ranking both in 1995 and in 1996 for her voting record on business issues.

"Business and labor are important to the community," said Geo-Karis. "We have passed a lot of landmark measures over the past two years that will strengthen the community as well. Measures such as education reform and property tax caps benefit business, labor and the community as a whole."

The Chamber's ranking is based upon roll call votes on key business issues over the two years. Legislation included in the ranking dealt with unemployment insurance, charter schools, truthful references, investment tax credits, downstate property tax caps, the Employee Commute Options Act and education reform.

COURAGE plans busy fall

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

COURAGE hosts a free rollerblading night on Friday, Sept. 20 at Linden Plaza on Grand Ave. in Lindenhurst.

The activity, which is free and, although geared toward school-age young people, is open to persons of all ages.

A donation basket will be available. Limited refreshments will also be available.

A trip to the Northwestern University football game on Saturday, Sept. 21 is planned through the Lindenhurst Park District.

Tickets are $18.00 per person which includes transportation.

A planning night for students, teachers and parents is scheduled from 6:30 until 8 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 26 at the Lindenhurst Village Hall. Programs for the 1996-97 school year, as well as the summer of 1997, will be discussed.

Informational meetings for the annual Haunted Trail will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Oct. 2 and 16 at the Lindenhurst Park District.

Team Building Games are planned Thursday, Oct. 3 at the Lindenhurst Village Hall. Fun Fall Leaf Raking, a community service event, is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 10.

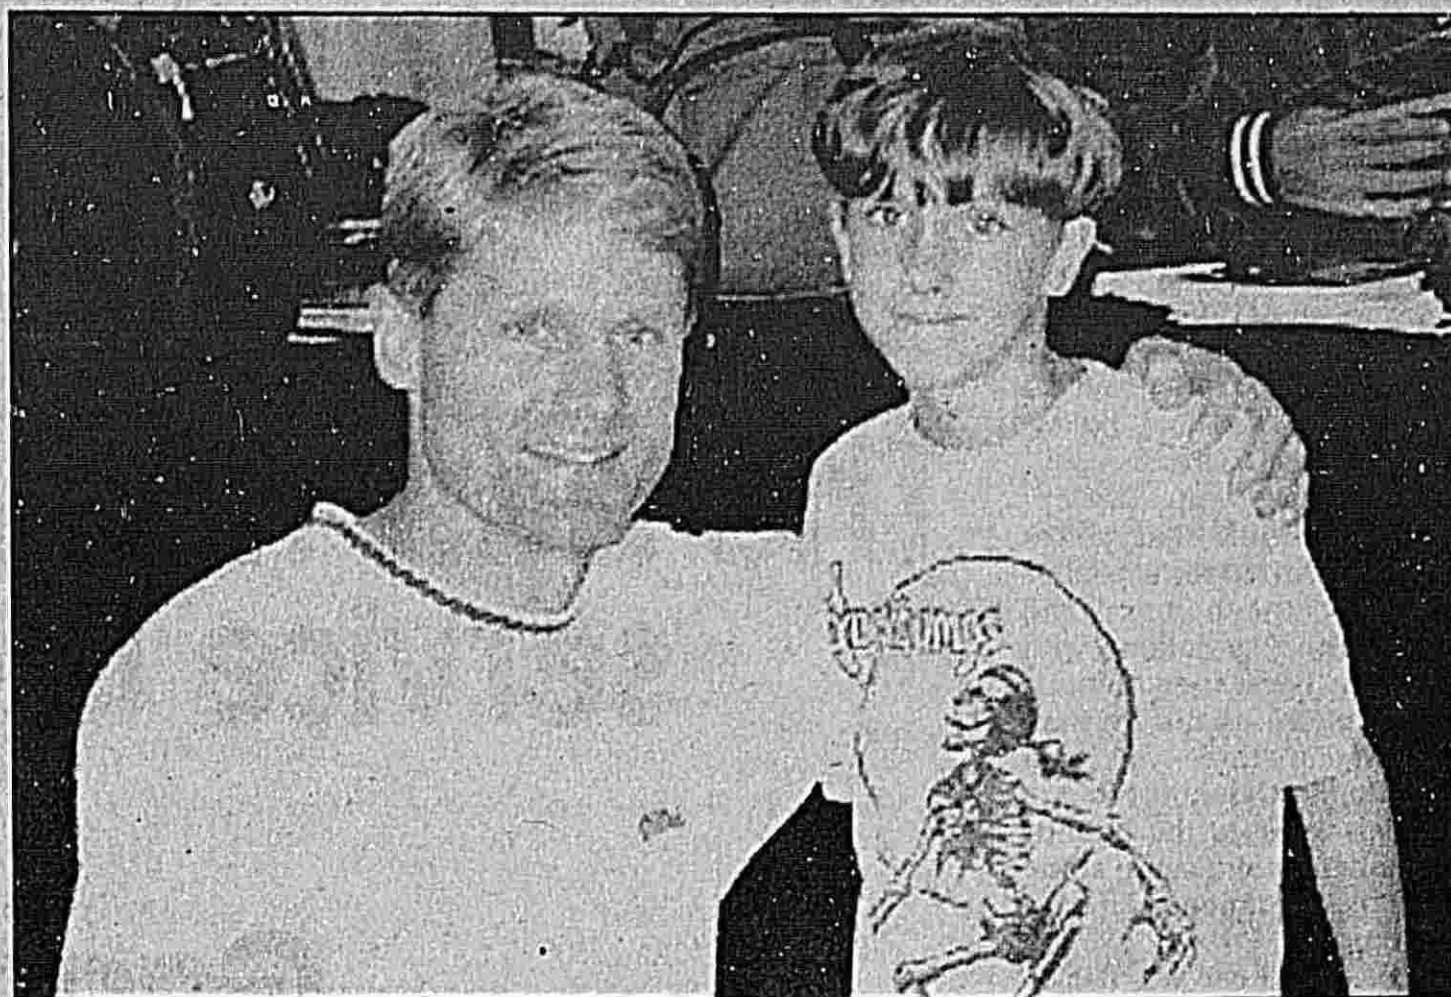

A meeting to help coordinate Halloween events and games is planned for Thursday, Oct. 17 at the Lindenhurst Village Hall.

The Haunted Trail is planned at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26 with Halloween Howl Antioch from 6 until 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 25.

A Halloween Party to be held in conjunction with Red Ribbon Week activities is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 31.

"The kids were very active this summer," said Linda Bergin, COURAGE chairman, noting white water rafting and camping were among the activities.

Persons desiring more information about COURAGE, its activities or to volunteer to help with activities, phone 847-356-6788.

In-person absentee voting begins at Clerk's office

In-person absentee voting for the general election to be held Nov. 5 begins Thursday, Sept. 26, in the County Clerk's office, room 101, 18 N. County Street, Waukegan.

Voting will be offered during regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Friday.

In-person absentee voting will also be offered Saturday, Nov. 2, from 9 a.m. to noon. The last day to vote in-person absentee is Monday, Nov. 4.

In Illinois, absentee voting is restricted to the following: absent from Lake County on election day; physically incapacitated; student temporarily residing outside Lake County; observance of a religious holiday; incarceration pending trial date; serving jury duty; employed in the Office of the Lake County Clerk/State's Attorney or as an election judge and election day duties will prevent you from being at the polling place.

A registered voter may also vote absentee ballot by mail. The voter should request an application or absentee ballot by calling the Lake County Clerk's Office at 360-5912. Once the signed application is returned, the office will mail the ballot within 48 hours beginning Sept. 26.

"Our office also offers a number of absentee programs which accommodate voters who are temporarily or permanently unable to be at the polls on election day. These include the Disable Voter Program, the Temporarily Absent Student Program and the Snowbird Program," said Willard Helander, Lake County clerk.

"We encourage voters who wish to learn more about these programs to contact our Absentee Voting Department at 360-5912."

Harley dealer holds court at Rotary

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Harley Davidson is a trademark name known worldwide for quality.

Antioch Rotary welcomed Bob and Lydia Bruel, owners of a Harley dealership in Woodstock. Bob has owned this dealership since 1954 and shared some stories and interesting facts about the company.

"Don Davidson was just like any guy in the factory," Bob recalled. "If his door was open and you didn't say 'hi' he would come after you."

Bob mentioned the Japanese Emperor's security personnel uses none other than American made Harleys.

At one time all of the cycles were assembled at the Milwaukee plant.

"I could take a customer up to Milwaukee and they could watch the cycle being made as it went through the assembly line," Bob said.

Bob chuckled when he talked about how some people purchase a new Harley.

"I laugh. They say 'oh, I don't want anything bigger.' Especially women, it's been my experience after about a year they want to get something bigger," Bob said.

Bob noted the Harley Owners Group (HOG) is the largest club in the world. It was a Harley engine installed in many of the American fighter planes in World War II.

Harley Davidson produces 150,000 cycles a year and the goal is to make 200,000 a year by the year 2003.

"We don't want to flood the market. We have a high resale value," Bob said.

Bob added he was talked into opening his store by another dealer in Kenosha.

He noted the products have changed throughout the years with many more accessories being sold.

"We sell everything from women's undies to doggie underwear," Bob said.

villages manage development in the future. The agreement will prevent developers from pitting villages against each other.

"We don't want to get a situation where a developer forces more density because we are afraid we are going to have all the traffic and impacts and no tax dollars," Shineflug said.

"The village and the developer want something that makes sense. The developer's goal is often more for the short term and they enter in negotiations with the village. These negotiations are made much easier if they are two-way and not three-way," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger.

Officials stressed the boundary agreement is not set in stone forever. It can be amended if both sides agree to it.

Beach Grove Road was decided mainly because of sewer capacity explained Antioch Village Administrator Tim Wells.

Wells said the village only has the capacity is service 1.6 million gallons. He said state and county officials have made it clear they will not permit Antioch to increase its capacity.

Oldenburger stressed the lay of the land makes it more logical for Beach Grove Road as the dividing line to be serviced in the north by Antioch and Lake Villa to the south.

The east-west line south of Beach Grove Road is Deep Lake Road with Lake Villa getting anything east of Deep Lake and Antioch getting land west of Deep Lake.

Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo said the agreement may actually slow down the pace of development.

"Once the areas are defined, it will actually slow down development... If we don't like a development we won't approve it because there is no reason to do it," Loffredo mentioned county officials would prefer a clear line between villages so there are no gray areas.

County Board Member Judi Martini of Antioch said she thought there was a gentleman's agreement between the two villages that the boundary would be Grass Lake Road.

"I think it is excessive. I think there should be some buffer areas to help preserve the character of the area," Martini said.

Wells said the village simply doesn't have the capacity to eventually go that far south.

The agreement was hammered out between both mayors. The boundaries never were discussed in open meetings until Sept. 13, after Lake Villa approved it. "Why weren't there hearings on this. We didn't know what the boundaries were," Pientka said.

Pientka said he also was uncomfortable having the village dictate to him development options when it has no jurisdiction over his property now.

Bob Silhan, Antioch zoning director, said the agreement does not require either village to annex a property if they don't wish to do so.

Loon Lake residents sent their message to the Antioch Village Board expressing their desire not to join the village in a petition. They also have said they don't want to join Lake Villa. They are in the Lake Villa boundary area. However, that area has too much land for the village to force annexation.

All Antioch Township residents will remain in Antioch Township even if they are annexed by Lake Villa.

In relation to sewer service, both villages require those hooking up to sewer to be residents of their respective villages. However, if the county provides sewer to unincorporated areas they could remain unincorporated. This is the second boundary agreement between Antioch and a neighboring village. Antioch also approved a pact with Lindenhurst a year ago.

ACHS lady linksters off to 4-1

The Antioch High girls golf team made it a 4-1 start to the dual meet season with a win over Evanston.

The Sequoits beat the Wildkits 196-240.

Lisa Murphy gained medalist honors for Antioch with a 45.

Also contributing were:
Abby Clark with a 49, Sarah Rockow's 50; Angie
Pederson's 52; DeAnne
Dalgarro's 56 and Melissa
Blasko's 69.

The score of 196 was good enough to break the dual meet 9-hole record, coach Steve Wapon said.

The junior varsity golfers were also successful, downing Evanston 215-279. The young Sequoits are 4-1 as well. Medalist for Antioch was Veronica Pazanin with a 52. Other contributing scores were:
Kacy Sehmer's 53; Sarah
Groh's 55; Brittany Cable's
55; Kristen Hungarland's
59; Dana Spandet's 59 and Jackie Anderson's 68.

On Saturday, the varsity and junior varsity traveled to the always tough Barrington Invitational.

Murphy led the way for the varsity with a 94.
Rackow had a 103,
Pederson a 108, Clark a 120 and Blasko 122. Antioch placed ninth of 14 teams with a score of 425.

The junior varsity team took home third-place honors. Barrington won the meet with a 394, followed by Lake Forest's 439 and Antioch's 441. Sehmer and Pazanin led the way.

"I thought they played great golf. It was our best performance of the season.
We hope to continue improving with each meet," junior varsity coach
Anita Reiche said.

Schmer had a 105,
Pazanin a 107, Groh a 112,
Cable a 117 and Hungarland a 129.

Antioch is at Regina Dominican Sept. 23 and hosts Stevenson Sept. 24 in upcoming meets.

ACHS golfers show talent depth, win invite Depth proved to be an important ally - in fact the difference as Antioch edged Libertyville in boys golf.

The Sequoits won 255-256 thanks to a stronger sixth score. Normally, only four scores count to a team total.

"We have six or seven pretty good golfers," Antioch coach Roger Alm said.

The North Suburban Conference match came down to junior Shawn Hansen scoring a 46 for the Sequoits.

Junior Mike Nielsen led the way with a 38. "His length and accuracy are his strong points. He has a powerful swing and he keeps the ball in play, which makes for short approach shots," Alm said.

Peter Sehmer and Tony Hunsberger had 42. Jeff Crivello had a 43 and Steve Drengler a 44.

Antioch is 3-0 to start the year. They downed McHenry 159-178 and Lake Forest Academy 159-174.

"We are hoping we do not peak too soon and just play solid golf," Alm said.

Antioch went out and won its own invitational with a score of 335 on Saturday.

"The team played well. This was the first day the conditions were cold and windy and we had six of our seven golfers in the top 15. We played very consistently," Alm said.

Cromeans led the way with a third-place score of 82 while Nielsen was right behind with a fourth-place score of 83.
Crivello was sixth with an 84 and Shawn Hansen seventh with an 86 for the Sequoits. Hunsberger and Drengler gave the Sequoits a third one-two punch with 88, 89 for 11th and 12th place.

Antioch beat Lake Zurich by four strokes, third-place Lake Forest had a 349.
Mundelein, led by Jim Rollins in 10th place with an 87, had 363; Warren was paced by Jon Savage's ninth place finish with a 87.
Grant had 381 and McHenry 421.

"I was pleased, because we have had a hard time with Lake Forest in the past."

Rothermel shines for ACHS, team 3rd

A birthday week here, strong running as a group there and an up and coming program were featured as four area girls cross country teams gained top 10 status.

Antioch area runners' efforts were a third place finish with 107 points. Stevenson was fifth with 182, Mundelein seventh with 247 and Lake Zurich eighth in 278.

Tracy Denaro won the meet as she clocked a 11:15 time Saturday at Wauconda's Lakewood Forest Preserve course.

"I was trying to finish better than I did last week. I led after the first loop past the lake and then picked it up," Denaro said.

The sophomore celebrated her 16th birthday when Mundelein hosted its meet earlier in the week.

Denaro has high hopes for her team in North Suburban Conference duals. "Our team is a lot stronger this year," she said.

Lianna Rothermel led the Antioch effort with a fourth place 11:29. The next three runners all placed in the 20s as Shayne
Jacobsen was 21st in 12:11; Megan
Mitchell was 22d in 12:17 and Cara
Heneberry was 27th in 12:21.

"In the off-season, we run three days a week in July," Antioch coach Dick Harland said.

Jacobsen and Mitchell ran a strong second and third. "Our strength is our pack," Harland said.

Antioch's fourth and fifth runners had to overcome a bad start to the race. It was actually the second try at the start, as there was a restart originally.

"I felt I had a better start. It was the same finish as Wednesday, fourth. I've improved a lot,"

Rothermel said.

One of her goals this year is actually to come to the cross country shoot first in an invitational.

Mundelein's effort was led by junior Sarah Klein's 12:47, three seconds better than Shelley Anderson.

"The girls did well. That was Klein's best run all season. She has been working her way up," MHS coach Jennifer Fallon said.

Anna Turk had a 12:44 and Andrea Pond also broke 13 minutes, 12:52. "This is Anna's first season out and she is still getting to know the sport," Fallon said.

The Mustangs' have seen an increase in turnout over the last three years for cross country. The Mustangs' motivation includes a t-shirt for meeting expected goals.

Northwest Suburban
Conference teams were not a factor in the huge 28-team meet.

Grayslake was led by Joanne Reiland's 11:41, for seventh place overall. "She has shown improvement," coach Joel Peebles said.

Michele Tessman and Tina
Fish followed.

Intense Sequoits win one for hospitalized coach

Intense preparation for a much needed win against Chicago Harlan intensified when Antioch High players learned their head coach would not be with them Saturday.

Head coach Del Pechauer was hospitalized with colitis, after surgery several months earlier to remove a large intestine.

Displaying the type of intensity from the time the band stopped playing pre-game music to the time the final horn sounded, Antioch dominated with a 41-6 win over Chicago Harlan.

"It became painful for Del

Kirsten leads Stevenson to turn back ACHS charge

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

It took three games, but fortunately for Stevenson, the third game looked more like the first than the second against Antioch.

The Patriots improved to 9-1 with a 15-4, 11-15, 15-6 North Suburban Conference win over the Sequoits Tuesday.

They were without Liz Andreachuk, the senior leader of the attack for about half the match as she suffered a back injury. She returned to lead the way with 17 kills on 22 of 23 attempts.

In the meantime, the leadership of classmate Kelly Kirsten was more than enough. She had 11 kills on 18-of-19 tries and had 11-of-12 serving.

"We've been playing pretty well lately. Tonight we buckled down and everybody contributed. We went into a little slump in the second game, but in the third we played much better," Kirsten said.

She complimented the setting of Lindsey Sultan, who had 19 assists, with sparking the offense.

"We struggled in the second game and Antioch picked it up, Kirsten has been playing great - she is a great all around player," Stevenson coach Leanne Ulmer said.

Antioch was led by Carrie Gofron's 18-of-21 attacks with 9 kills and Jennifer Cardis, who had 16-of-20 with 10 kills. The loss drops the Sequoits to 4-6 overall, 0-2 NSC.

"We concentrated on staying aggressive in the second game. We have a tendency to fall behind in the first game and we do not have the big hitter to bring us back," Antioch coach Gwen Varney said.

Stevenson led 9-1 en route to a 15-4 first game win as Carolyn Nugent and Molly Harrigan brought Antioch to the brink with serves before the Sequoits tallied some consolation points.

The momentum continued Antioch's way in game two against some SHS substitutes.

A Gofron kill gave the Sequoits an 8-7 lead. Stevenson answered for a one-point margin, but Liz Koeck served for three points including an ace. Gofron took charge for a kill and Emily Levin served out the win.

Antioch had lost to powerful Libertyville 15-9, 15-13.

Antioch is at Stevenson's invite Sept. 21 and at Richmond-Burton Sept. 23.

Antioch Viking travel teams remain unbeaten

After two weeks of play in the Junior Football league of Northern Illinois, all four Antioch Viking Travel football teams remain unbeaten. The Featherweights, Lightweights, and Heavyweight squads beat teams from the Grayslake Colts football program with the Pee Wees playing to a 0-0 tie. This weekend all teams will travel to McHenry for games beginning at 9 a.m. with the Pee Wee contest.

Defense was the name of the game in the Viking Heavyweight 26-14 win over Grayslake. Running back Alan Rapinchuk scored two touchdowns and Chris Rogalla and J.T. Litchfield each added a TD as the Vikings broke from a 14-14 tie early in the third quarter. Additionally, back Rob Lodesky ran well for Antioch. The Viking defense was impressive, stopping a Colt drive at the one yard line. One of Grayslake's TD's was a run back of the second half kickoff. Scott Hodina picked off a pair of Grayslake passes.

The Antioch Featherweights are 2-0 after their 25-0 win Sunday over the Colts. Running back Brett Bairstow scored three TD's, one a 65 yard punt return in leading the Raiders offensive game. The Raiders played a stellar defensive game. Defensive standouts for head coach Chuck Grasser were Bairstow, Mike Addison, Sam Carden, Jim O'Connell, Scott Gehrke, and Dave Hartman.

The Lightweights recorded their second shutout of the season, 35-0 over Grayslake. Running back Bobby Grasser scored three TD's on runs of one three and 36 yards and totaled 87 yards on 16 carries. Back Chris Romano scored the fourth Viking TD and Quarterback. Mark Purnell went in from fourth yards out for the fifth TD. Purnell also added three extra Points and back Bill Damron kicked an extra point. Running back Mike Smith rushed for 135 yards on 15 carries. Excellent line blocking by Ryan Roberts, Justin Mehaffey, Bill Banser, Lincoln Barnett, Eric sesko and center Anthony Sprovieri was a key factor in Antioch's 387 offensive yards. Defensively, Grasser led with seven tackles, Romano had six, Smith and Dane Anderson each had five tackles with Eric Schultz and Chris Wold four tackles each. Kevin Pendergast picked off a Grayslake Colt pass.

A defensive standoff was played at the Pee Wee division Sunday as the Antioch Vikings and Grayslake Colts fought to a 0-0 tie. Antioch was stopped at the Grayslake 11 yard line as time expired in the first half and the Colts turned the ball over deep in Viking territory with 49 seconds remaining in the game after a solid tackle at the six yard line by Luke Seznov which was recovered by Jason Rogalla. Rogalla led the offensive attack with 68 yards total. Backs Jeff Cannella and Taylor Pechaure turned in outstanding performances for the Viking.

The Viking will play at McHenry High School Sunday with the Pee Wees beginning at 9 a.m. The Viking Saturday teams will host Lake Zurich at Antioch HS Saturday with the Saturday Pee Wees at 10 a.m., Saturday Featherweights 11 a.m. and Saturday heavyweight team at 2 p.m.

Sequoits

cerned about the pain," Mike Gordy, defensive coordinator, said.

Pechaure did not miss a day of practice this week or any other time. The duties of guiding the high powered offense were given to assistant coach Larry Walker, who normally handles the offense while Gordy handled the defense.

Joe Day rushed for 56 yards, but that was all the Sequoits would need him for this chilly September day. He had three touchdown runs as the Sequoits gained early field position on two blocked punts.

"We had a great week of practice. The offensive line stepped it up and created the holes," Day said.

QB David Gooch's timing on the option improved after two long games with losses to North Suburban Conference powers Stevenson and Libertyville.

Antioch, 1-2, looks for a new start to the conference race when it battles Zion Sept. 20. The Zee-Bees have new lights this year, and the Sequoits would like nothing better than to even their mark against a rival.

"It will be a fun game and everyone will be pumped up for it," Day said.

Day, of Lake Villa, scored from 5 yards out in the first quarter.

"He accelerates nicely in the open field and is a smooth runner.

We got it to the point where the pitch was a weapon," Gordy said. "We have cut down on the number of reads Gooch has in the triple option," Gordy said.

The Wildcats brought only 16 players and less than five fans to Antioch on Saturday, but that did not mean the Wildcats did concern the Sequoits.

"We were concerned because we saw them play and knew their quarterback has a good arm. They said he threw it 60 yards and after he threw it 50 yards against the wind, I believed them," Gordy said.

Pat Ewert was the last line of defense for Antioch, but the matter seldom got that far.

Rick Kirschenheiter set the tone for the day as he blocked a Harlan punt. Day scored the first of his three TDs with 8:34 left.

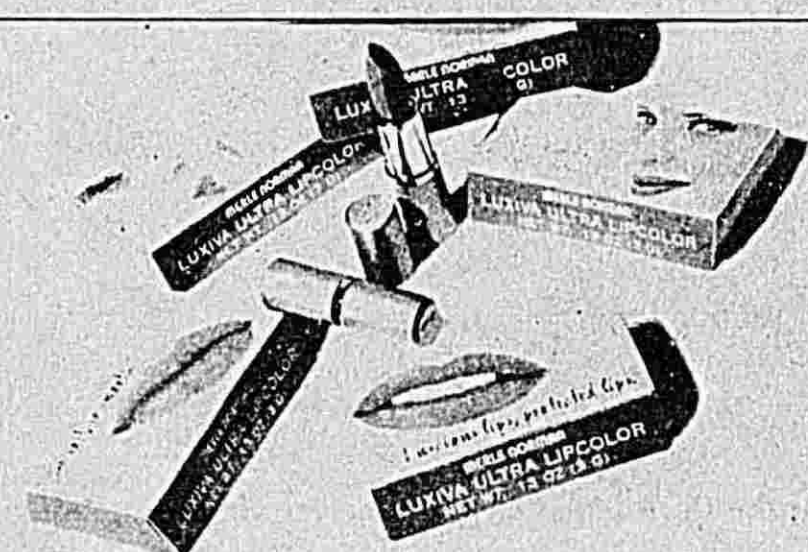

Reggie Hughes apparently was a good pupil. A bad snap and a hard rush by Hughes led to Antioch getting the ball at the 25 of Harlan. Day bolted over from the 5 and in less than two minutes, the Sequoits were in charge.

Antioch had the ball at the Harlan 33 on its next drive. Brandon Polheber tallied from 4 yards out for a 20-point quarter.

Antioch scored again after a Harlan touchdown pass. A 61-yard drive ended with a TD run by Chris Schultz, who finished with 26 first half yards.

A Jeremy Grace kickoff return led to the first score of the second half, a 16-yard run by Day.

The substitutes saw plenty of second-half action. Senior Steve Smith got into the scoring act with a 28-yard run.

HOW TO PLAY

Select a winner from each of the week's games, listed below. Select in descending order of your CONFIDENCE in your choices. Win points at left for each correct selection toward possible total of 136 points. See complete rules below. You must be at least 8 (eight) years old to enter. To enter, clip along dotted line, then place game entry in POWER POINTS container at co-sponsor's retail outlet(s). Entrants must list name, address and phone number below.

LIMIT: You may enter only one coupon statewide per week.

DEADLINE: 2 P.M. THURSDAY

TIEBREAKER 1 ☐ Total points scored (both teams) in BEARS game.
TIEBREAKER 2 ☐ Total offensive yards (both teams) in this game.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Atlanta at San Francisco	Carolina at Jacksonville
Denver at Cincinnati	Detroit at Tampa Bay
Green Bay at Seattle	Houston at Pittsburgh
Kansas City at San Diego	Minnesota at N.Y. Giants
New Orleans at Baltimore	Northwestern at Indiana
Oakland at Chicago	Penn State at Wisconsin
St. Louis at Arizona	Ohio State at Notre Dame
N.Y. Jets at Washington	UCLA at Michigan

POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are surest of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line. If that team wins its game that week, you win 16 points. Write the name of your second-surest winner on the 15-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a toss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's Bears, Rams or Illinois game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final. The weekly winner of the contest will receive $1,000.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc., will be disqualified.
- Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and Pitt and Pittsburgh.
- No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.
- Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.
- Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.
- Any inquiry about or protest of weekly results must be made by Noon on the Friday following the announcement of winners.
- No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.
- Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Thursdays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.
- Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.
- Limit: one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant; "group" entries, "systems" or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filing out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.
- Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

FISHER AND FISHER
FILE NO. 26678

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS EASTERN DIVISION

Federal National Mortgage Association, Plaintiff, VS.

Gregory M. Greene, Defendants.

Case No. 94 C 4336
Judge KOCORAS

NOTICE OF SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE OUR FILE NO. 26678

(IT IS ADVISED THAT INTERESTED PARTIES CONSULT THEIR OWN ATTORNEYS BEFORE BIDDING AT FORECLOSURE SALES)

Public Notice is hereby given pursuant to a Judgment entered in the above entitled cause on August 8, 1996.

I, Max Tyson, Special Commissioner for this court will on October 14, 1996 at the hour of 9:00 a.m. at the front door of Waukegan Court House, Waukegan, Illinois, sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described premises:

The West 1/2 of Lot 8 and all of Lot 9 in Block 6 of Channel Lake Shores, being a Subdivision of Part of the West 1/2 of Fractional Section 1, Township 46 North, Range 9, East of the Third Principal Meridian, According to the Plat Thereof, Recorded April 23, 1940, as Document Number 476695, in Book "Z" of Plats, Page 90, in Lake County, Illinois.

c/k/a 25785 Sylvan Drive, Antioch, IL 60002.

Tax ID #01-01-305-007 and 01-01-305-008.

The improvements on the property consist of a single family, wood frame, one story dwelling with an attached garage.

Sale Terms: 10% down by certified funds, balance within 24 hours, certified funds, no refunds. The sale shall be subject to general taxes and to special assessments.

The property will NOT be open for inspection.

The judgment amount was $86,078.98.

Upon the sale being made, the purchaser will receive a Certificate of Sale which will entitle the purchaser to a Deed on a specified date unless the property is redeemed according to law.

For information call the Sales Officer at Plaintiff's Attorney, Fisher and Fisher, 30 North LaSalle, Chicago, Illinois. (312) 372-4784 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Under Illinois law, the Sales Officer is not required to provide additional information other than that set forth in this Notice.

PET OF THE WEEK

It happens every summer.
When cats are not spayed or neutered, too many kittens are born. The resulting tragic flood of homeless kittens is now a heartbreaking reality at Orphans of the Storm. We are currently housing a large selection of healthy adorable kittens ranging in age from eight to sixteen weeks. Long hair and short hair domestics in many colors and patterns are available. There will never be a better time to save a life this summer. If you love cats, please consider adopting a playful companion for a cat you already own, or adopt one or two of our loving kittens and add a whole new dimension of joy to your life. There is nothing quite like raising a kitten and watching as he/she grows into the gorgeous full-grown beauty that makes cats so easy to love. When you adopt a pet, you save a life and add so much joy to your own. Stop in today!

Cash $40 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, tag, leash, first shots, free FELV test, follow up care and much more.
Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd.,
Deerfield. Hours are 11 am - 5pm, seven days a week. Call (847) 945-0235 for further information.

Apple beef brisket

Viewers send me recipes all the time. Most of the time I am very anxious to try such offerings. On occasion, though this is rare, someone will send me a list of prepared mixes that he or she blends together to get a... dish of some sort. Not so with this offering. It takes a while to cook, but you can do much of the work ahead of time. It is very good.

1 beef brisket, 4-5 pounds, trimmed of fat
1 large yellow onion, peeled and quartered
2 large cloves garlic, peeled and chopped
10 cloves garlic, whole
1 jar (10 ounces) apple jelly
1/3 cup dry white wine
3 Tbl.s Dijon mustard (Grey Poupon is fine)

2 green onions, chopped
1/2 tsp. salt
3/4 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
3/4 tsp. curry powder
1 cup apple juice

1/4 cup chopped parsley, for garnish Place the brisket, onion, chopped garlic and garlic cloves in a large Dutch oven. Add water to cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 2 1/2 hours, or until the brisket is tender. Drain brisket. (If you wish you can keep the brisket covered with the water and refrigerate it overnight. This will help prepare for the next day.)

In a small saucepan mix together the apple jelly, wine, mustard, green onions, salt, pepper and curry powder. Heat until the jelly melts. (This can be done in your microwave in just minutes.)

Place brisket in a shallow roasting pan and brush some of the jelly mixture over the top. Bake at 325 degrees for 45 minute, basting 3 or 4 times with the remaining jelly mixture.

Remove the meat to a platter to keep warm. Place the pan on a hot burner and deglaze with the apple juice. Reduce the juice for a moment and place in a gravy boat. Serve alongside the meat.

Slice brisket and serve with parsley garnish.

Divorced parents: A tax guide

Divorced parents experience some unique challenges and rewards in both their personal and tax lives. The Illinois CPA Society points out that the following federal income tax provisions that may be of interest to such parents.

Dependency exemption

For starters, special rules determine which divorced parent can claim the dependency exemption for a dependent child. Generally, the law gives the exemption to the parent who has custody of the child for the great part of the year. This is the case whether or not that parent actually provided more than half of the child's total annual support.

For divorced couples with a pre-1985 agreement, the non-custodial parent may be eligible for the dependency exemption if the agreement so provides and that parent pays at least $600 for the child's support during the year.

Parents do have some flexibility in working out the most suitable arrangement. By signing Form 8332, "Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents," the custodial parent may agree to let the non-custodial parent claim the exemption. The non-custodial parent then attaches the form to his or her tax return for each year the exemption is released.

Medical expenses

Regardless of who has custody, each parent can deduct medical expenses that he or she incurs for the child. Qualified costs include unreimbursed physician and dentist fees, costs for prescription drugs, and insurance premiums. Of course, keep in mind that medical costs are deductible only to the extent that their total exceeds 7.5 percent of adjusted gross income.

Child care credit

If a custodial parent pays someone to care for the child (under age 13) while he or she works, or looks for work, that parent may be entitled to a child care tax credit. This applies even if that parent has release the right to a dependency exemption or, under a pre-1985 divorce decree, is not entitled to a dependency exemption with respect to the child.

The child care credit ranges from 20 to 30 percent of qualified expenses paid during the year, with the exact percentage based on the parent's adjusted gross income. The credit applies only to total annual expenses of up to $2,400 for one child and $4,800 for two or more children. If the parent participates in an employer-sponsored, dependent-care assistance plan, the $2,400 and $4,800 limitation must be reduced by the amount excluded from the parent's income under this plan.

Child support and alimony

Child support is generally neither taxable to the receiving spouse, nor deductible by the paying spouse. Alimony, on the other hand, is deductible by the person who pays it, and taxable to the recipient.

Head of Household

A custodial parent may qualify for "head of household" filing status, which entitles him or her to lower tax rates than those for single taxpayers or for married people filing separately.

To qualify for this status on a 1995 return, the parent must be unmarried on Dec. 31, 1995, and must have paid more than half the cost of maintaining his or her own home for the year. Furthermore, the child must have lived in the home for more than half the year.

Variable life can help pay way for college funding

ALAN FRIEDLANDER

For the past decade, college costs have escalated faster than the rate of general inflation. This trend is expected to continue. Faced with current commitments such as car payments, mortgages, and even their own college loans, parents often avoid planning ahead for college financing until they have a child in high school. But in most cases, that will be too late.

College costs have been increasing about 7 percent or more per year. In 18 years, parents can expect to pay $82,000 to $212,000 for four years of college, according to the college board. In order to best prepare for these substantial expenses parents should begin planning for their children's college education while their children are still young.

There are a number of different ways to approach college funding. Many education funds start out as savings bonds given as gifts when a child is born. Later, parents may choose to put some money where it can grow, such as certificates of deposits or savings accounts, which offer fixed returns and may be insured, or into mutual funds, which fluctuate in value but can provide significant growth potential.

Parents should select funding vehicles that will maximize the amount of money available at the time their child begins college. Here is an example of the monthly investment needed to reach a goal of $50,000 or $100,000 by the time the child is 18 years old. The monthly payments increase dramati-caly as the available saving time decreases.

One increasingly popular way to achieve investments goals for education funding is variable life insurance. Variable life combines the opportunity to participate in mutual funds while also providing life insurance protection. It does offer substantial tax breaks not available to mutual fund investors. In addition, it can provide funds for a child's education or other financial needs through the insurance portion.

Monthly investment needed to reach funding goal

1	$119	$237
3	$147	$294
6	$211	$421
8	$276	$552
13	$602	$1,203

Parents of a young child purchase a variable life insurance policy on one of their own lives—usually whoever is in need of more insurance protection. Part of the premium dollars they pay goes toward the cost of their insurance, which can be used for tuition bills or other financial needs should the parent die. Another portion of the premium is generally used to cover the insurer's fees. The remaining amount is invested among the parent's choice of professionally managed mutual funds. These often include a common stock fund, bond fund, money market account, international fund and balanced fund. Historical cash value

The freedom of investment choice enables parents to participate in the growth of their policy's accumulated funds, or "cash value." The tradeoff is that the cash value is not guaranteed. But for parents who have the time and mind set to withstand fluctuations in the stock market, putting a sizable portion of their investment into a growth stock fund can provide good returns. Historically, stock funds have performed better than most investments over the long term and have also kept up with inflation better than most.

The remaining portion of cash value can be divided amongst bond funds, balance funds, and money market funds. The performance of any fund cannot be predicted and will vary over time so parents who are very conservative investors, or those who don't have much time, may want to consider something other than variable life for college funding.

Tax Advantages

However, there are a number of tax advantages to using variable life as a funding vehicle. First, the cash value of the policy is tax-deferred. Also, the mutual fund distributions, such as dividends, are reinvested and any gains are not reportable to the IRS. Transfers among variable fund options can be made tax-free. (As the college years get closer this point becomes very important to parents who want to begin real-locating a portion of the funds to more conservative options). Money from the low interest policy loans can be received tax free when properly arranged.

Each situation varies so parents should consult an insurance agent on the tax savings available to them, especially when choosing how to access funds from their policy for college expenses. An agent can also suggest an appropriate balance of investments based on the parent's financial styles and needs.

An important factor to keep in mind about this product is the length of time required to make it a worthwhile funding vehicle. Most variable life products are unsuitable for college funding needs for less than 10 years. The cash value needs time to grow, as fees are usually levied if the policy is partially or completely surrendered during the first 10 to 15 years to obtain cash. So, again, parents who want to help pay for their child's education should start planning early. Finding extra money to put aside for college can be difficult, but those who wait will find it harder to cover college costs.

Variable life will help pave the way to college by making it a part of your child's overall college funding plan.
